MARINES LAND IN COSTA RICA

Report Americans Have Gone Ashore at Purita Arenas and Port Limon

No Information Regarding Action Received at Washington, Say Officials

SAN SALVADOR, June 4.—Americans have been landed at Purita Arenas and Port Limon, Costa Rica, because of the revolution against the government headed by Gen. Tinoco, according to despatches printed in newspapers here.

The revolution in Costa Rica has been in progress two months. Forces recruited from political exiles formed bands along the Nicaraguan frontier near Lake Nicaragua and advanced southward. Punta Arenas is on the Pacific coast of Costa Rica and is the Pacific terminus of the railroad extending across Costa Rica to Port Limon, which is the most important harbor on the Atlantic side.

Report Not Confirmed

WASHINGTON, June 4.—No information regarding the reported landing of American forces in Costa Rica had reached either the navy or state department today and Secretary Daniels said he doubted any landing had been made. If any men were sent ashore, they were sailors, as the only marine detachment in the vicinity is the legation guard in Nicaragua and officials said it could not be moved without specific authority from Washington.

Patrick's cemetery for some time past was reached last Saturday evening when some unknown person or persons succeeded in damaging the beautiful

POLICE ORDERED TO BE ON THE ALERT

Patrolmen covering routes in Lowell on which the homes of high court officials and others charged with judicial authority, are located were instructed under special orders from Chief of Police Redmond Welch at an early hour this morning to maintain special watch over these homes.

This order results from the news which was flashed across the wires throughout the country yesterday that attempts had been made on the homes of judges in several cities in the United States.

After reading of the outrages committed by radicals in these cities the chief lost no time in issuing his instructions to the force, and every patrolman on duty today in the territory represented in the jurisdiction of local judges and other high court officials was cognizant of the order to use extra care and be on the alert for possible trouble.

Skulkers and suspiciously acting persons in all sections of Lowell will be watched, particularly during the night hours, by all members of the "finest," and an order has been issued to arrest all persons on the public streets of the city who are unable to give a good reason for their presence.

In speaking to The Sun in regard to the new mandate issued this morning, the superintendent said:

"In my judgment it is best to take these precautions in view of what has occurred in Boston, Lawrence, Philadelphia and many other cities which have been subjected to the outrages and plots of the radical element which seems to have gained a footing in many parts of the country.

"Personally I do not look for any of this kind of business in Lowell. We have always had a law-abiding and patriotic community, and the labor element has always played fair and square and proved themselves 100 per cent. American.

"I request every patriotic citizen of this community who has reasons for suspecting that any man or group of men in the city are planning anything which might be injurious to the community to report their suspicions to me immediately, and they can feel assured that the matter will be sifted to the bottom, no matter who is involved."

RIOTS FORCE PLANT TO CLOSE

13,000 Idle at Toledo, Following Night of Terror—
2 Killed, 17 Injured

Mayor Appeals For Troops—
Ex-Soldiers in Pitched Battle—100 Shots Fired

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 4.—Operations at the Willits-Overland Automobile Co. were at a standstill today as a result of the rioting last night in which two persons were shot to death and 17 were injured. The plant opened a week ago Monday after two weeks of idleness.
Clarence A. Earl, vice president and general manager of the company, authorized the announcement that no attempt would be made to operate the plant, which has been affected by labor disturbances involving 13,000 employees, pending word from Governor Cox regarding an appeal from Mayor Schreiber for troops to handle the situation.

Ex-Soldiers Answer Riot Call

The dead men, it was said, were not involved in the labor disputes and were never employed at the Overland plant.
They were in the crowd which congregated about a fire station when discharged soldiers guarding the plant arrived in response to a riot call.

Feeling Running High

Feeling in the neighborhood where the deaths occurred is running high.
This is a settlement of Poles, the nationality which suffered most seriously during the rioting, and the police were apprehensive of further outbreaks today aimed at the former soldiers doing emergency police duty. The emergency policemen are armed with automatic pistols and rifles. They still wear the uniform of the army.

Mayor Appeals For Troops

Mayor Schreiber had received no word from Governor Cox concerning his plea for troops, and, fearing that an attempt might be made to harm him, spent the night in a hotel, instead of at his home. The house adjoining the mayor's was stoned and its windows smashed last night by sympathizers of the idle automobile workers who apparently mistook the residence for the mayor's.

Pitched Battle at Gates

The labor situation at the automobile plant, which has been smoldering for four weeks, flared into a pitched battle at the gates of the factory last night as the day force was leaving. A crowd of 5000 idle workers attacked the loyal employees with bricks, stones, clubs and other missiles.

Fire 100 Shots at Rioters

The emergency police charged them, firing more than a hundred shots over the heads of the rioters. Eleven persons were injured in this class, two probably fatally.

SOME HOT TODAY, EH! YEP, WE'LL SAY SO

Yesterday and today may well be the hottest of the season. After the wildest session of yesterday which continued throughout the night, a little respite was yearned for today, but the sun rose just as merciless this morning and before it had traveled a quarter of its parabolic gave every evidence of knocking yesterday's record all hollow.
With the arrival of the noon hour unassailable proof was given by thermometers everywhere.

At 12 o'clock this noon the thermometer in the square, then in the shade of the buildings, stood at 85 degrees, four degrees higher than at the same hour yesterday. Yesterday's record of 85 degrees in Merrimack square was not reached until about 4.30 o'clock and if today's heat increases as did yesterday's, there is no telling where the mercury will stop. That it will go over the top seems assured.
The thermometer of the docks and Canals close to the water at the Pawtucket dam early this afternoon showed a temperature of 88 degrees, but that is in a place never reached by the sun's rays.

Steep was unproductive of rest last night as there was hardly a breath of air stirring. Examine 4 of the fire department rushed Davidson street and others in that vicinity. Hose 7 sent a cooling stream flying through William street and Hose 8 brought a little relief to many residents in the Aiken and upper Lakeview avenue section. Both commons and every park was covered with persons seeking a cool spot, but it was hot everywhere.
And the mosquitoes! They seemed to come in swarms and droves and added to the discomfort of the populace.

No heat prostrations were reported this forenoon but those persons who by necessity were out of doors watched their steps and took every precaution.

DEATHS

BELANGER.—Ernest Belanger, aged 57 years, died last night at his home, 590 Lawrence street. He leaves three sons, Frank and Desire with the A.P.F.
in France and William of this city;
three daughters, Mrs. Joseph Johnson of New Haven, Conn., and Misses Eugenie and Beatrice Belanger of this city.

GAGOUNAS.—Peter Gagounas, aged 23 years, died last night at the State infirmary in Tewksbury. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Joseph Albert in Aiken st. and burial took place at 3.30 o'clock this afternoon in the Edison cemetery after services had been held at the Holy Trinity Greek church.

ZETROWICZ.—Andrew Zetrowicz, aged 13 years, died today at the Children's hospital. The body was removed to the funeral parlors of Undertaker Joseph Albert in Aiken street.

Wholesale Murder Plot Planned in Chicago--Explosion There Today--Hunt for Plotters

Evidence Uncovered in Pittsburgh Leads to Report Plotters Acted on Orders From Russian Reds in New York--Radical Literature Printed in Chicago --Explosives Also Found--New Bureau To Crash Anti-Government Movement

CHICAGO, June 4.—Federal agents today searched every known rendezvous for radicals in Chicago for clues which may lead to the arrest of persons responsible for the nation-wide bomb outrage.

Evidence showing that some of the radical literature used by the conspirators apparently had been printed in Chicago led officials to believe that the entire plot may have been planned in this city.

Printers Arrested

Proprietors of 12 radical printing shops were taken into custody and questioned by federal agents. One of the printers, confessed that a Russian, whose name he does not know, but whom he can identify came to his shop recently and gave the order for the radical circulars found in connection with the wholesale-murder program.
The suspect also told of other literature of the same character having been turned out by other shops. Later the printers were released but will be closely watched.

Federal agents were kept busy all day questioning suspects taken in eight raids on headquarters of radical groups.

Mysterious Explosion Today

A mysterious explosion in a North Elm street early today wrecked a large automobile. Three sticks of dynamite and 50 feet of fuse were found in a vacant lot several feet from the car. The police declared that the license tag on the car had been issued to Cornelius T. Shea, formerly president of the Chicago Teamsters' union and prominent in organized labor circles 10 years ago. Search was started for him.

Several raids were made on halls on the west and south sides reputed to be places for radical gatherings. In one raid explosives were found. A mass of anarchistic pamphlets was gathered in several places.

Admits Being Anarchist

From Daniel Coslins, arrested several days ago, it was said that a partial connection had been obtained indicating connection of Chicago radicals with others in the east in a bomb plot of wide ramifications. Coslins, said to be an Italian, speaks seven languages and is a bookkeeper. According to the police, he admits having been an anarchist for four years, coming here from New York and during his leisure hours aiding in the propaganda work of the extremists with whom he is affiliated.

BERLIN VIEWS ON RHINE REPUBLIC

Says Americans, British and Belgians Regard Move as Result of French Intrigue

France Trying To Gain
What She Was Unable To Force Wilson To Concede

BERLIN, Tuesday, June 3.—(By the Associated Press)—Authorities of the American, British and Belgian armies of occupation regard activities looking to the establishment of a Rhenish republic as a result of French intrigue and are themselves taking a strictly neutral attitude, according to the Elberfeld correspondent of the Lokal An-zeiger.

"It is believed that France is trying to gain by roundabout means what she was unable to force President Wilson to concede—the annexation of the left bank of the Rhine," the correspondent declares. "The Americans and British, however, are freely permitting counter efforts on the part of Germany which are not permitted in districts occupied by the French. The upper Rhine district would not know of the existence of a new republic but for the contrast newspapers at Aix-la-Chapelle and Crefeld. There is no desire for a republic from Bingen northward and the whole northern section of the Rhine province is completely loyal to Germany."

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

If you worked hard in the shop all week, came home Saturday noon and turned over your pay envelope to the head of the house without a murmur, then went out in the garden and did your bit under a blazing New England sun until long after supper time, it is hardly possible that you might expect a little rest on the coming Sabbath, don't you think?

And if you were a young man still in your teens, as is Manuel Athanasia, wouldn't you think that the "pater" was going a bit too far if he haled you before the police court on a charge of being a stubborn child because you couldn't see into getting up bright and early that same Sunday morning and hiking out in the garden for the day?

Well, anyway, Manuel told Judge Fisher this morning that he didn't think it was fair. Judge Fisher thought it wasn't fair too. And so he announced after hearing the story of the Athanasias, senior and junior, that Manuel was not guilty of the charge his father preferred against him, and ordered him discharged forth. He also suggested that Mr. Athanasia talk things over with his young son and see if something could not be done so that Manuel might get at least a little time for rest and boyish recreation occasionally.

Film Film Game

The next number on the police court menu this morning was the case of Cecil Walker. Cecil is a film film artist who has made his home in the City of Spindles for some time, but yesterday he fell down hard when he hunched Paul Brunelle, son of the local druggist on East Merrimack street, out of a nice new ten dollar note.

He got the ten, but he shortly after

GERMANS WANT U. S. ALLIANCE

Demand For America To Take a Protectorate Over German Nation

Give Germany Financial Aid and Protection and Take Lion's Share of Profits

BERLIN, Tuesday, June 3.—(By the Associated Press)—There seems to be a widespread demand on the part of Germans that efforts be made to induce America to enter into a sort of limited alliance with Germany to take a protectorate over this country, giving Germany financial aid and protection and taking in return the lion's share of the profits of the country's industrial activities. This sentiment, which first made its appearance last December, appears to have become stronger very recently.

Privy Councillor Bergmann, formerly a partner in the German Edison companies, and one of the largest electrical magnates here, suggests a German-American partnership, with America the senior and controlling partner.

MANY RECRUITS SENT TO CAMP DEVENS

Hot weather sends men into the army it seems, for today the recruiting detachment on the South common, which has been under canvas there for about two weeks, sent 24 men to Camp
Devens, recruits obtained on Monday, Tuesday and today for the 26th Infantry.

The list follows: Frank Waleryanowicz, 27 North street; Antonio Furtado, 22 Edgerly court; John Maroney, 60 Whipple street; William T. McKenzie, North Billerica; Daniel L. Ryan, 9
Westford street; Harold F. O'Hearn, 47 Rock street; James T. Nolan, 24 Rock street; M. Martin, 21 Bratt street;
John Florence, 63 Hanover street;
Charles Belanger, Manchester, N. H.; George P. McCarthy, 28 Rock street;

ley C. Kenney, 141 Fletcher street, and Leonard B. Foster, 38 Brookside street.

NEW SYSTEM OF PHYSICAL TRAINING

When the Lowell high school opens next September for its 1919-20 season a new system of physical training will be instituted.

At the present time every young man who enters the school is obliged to receive three years of military training unless excused for reasons of physical disability. During the fourth and fifth year the subject is optional.
Under the new system the first year student will not receive military drill but rather physical training under the auspices of Donald R. McIntire, recently elected physical instructor. During the second and third year military drill will be in vogue, and for the fourth and fifth year the young men will revert to physical culture.
Details of the new plans are being worked out and will be ready for practical operation at the opening of the school year.

THE CHARTER QUESTION

In view of the possible adoption of Plan B charter in this city next fall it is of interest to know that the city of Lynn which adopted that form of charter a year ago, providing for only one election instead of two as is the custom under Lowell's present charter, has adopted a legislative amendment providing for a preliminary as well as final election.

Austria Accepts Peace Terms

VIENNA, June 4.—The Austrian government has decided unanimously that the peace terms presented at St. Germain on Monday, are acceptable, the Neues Abendblatt says.

German Coast Defenses Ready

PARIS, June 4.—A report has reached peace conference circles that Gustav Noske, the German minister of defense, recently made a tour of the German coast defenses and directed the personnel to be prepared for emergencies.

Big Strike Spreading in Paris

PARIS, June 4.—Paris walked to work today, no subways, tram cars or taxi buses being in operation because of the strikes.

Reports early today indicated that the strike was gaining in trades where there were differences between employers and men, even sometimes against the judgment of the strike leaders. There were some 350,000 on strike in the Paris district yesterday, and it was said today that the number might be 500,000 before night.

DECISION BY BIG FOUR TOMORROW

Expected To Reach Agreement as to Reply to German Counter Proposals

Clemenceau Firm Against Charges—Sentiment To Accept Indemnity Offer

(By Associated Press.)
There is reason to believe, according to news from Paris, that the council of four will reach a decision by tomorrow as to the reply that will be made to the German counter proposals to the terms of peace. Allied experts are now at work on the reply, and meetings were held in Paris today for the purpose of drafting memoranda to be submitted to the council of four.

Clemenceau Against Charges

Premier Clemenceau is understood to maintain firmly that there can be no important changes in the clauses of the treaty to which the Germans have entered, their strongest objections.
There are indications, however, of a strong undercurrent of sentiment to meet the German offer of a definite sum of 100,000,000 marks as indemnity instead of the indeterminate sum that might be demanded under the terms as presented.

World's Food Control

The supreme economic council, has appointed a committee to study a plan for the liquidation of the world's food control and to devise plans to meet the problems that will arise after the coming harvest. Dispatches from Paris state that after the signing of the peace treaty, the United States cannot legally participate in the control of foodstuffs, and Herbert C. Hoover, the chairman of the inter-allied food commission, believes that the business can be handled through regular channels.

BANQUET LAW BREAKERS

Seattle's Acting Mayor and Labor Leaders Honor Men Convicted of Sedition

SEATTLE, Wash., June 4.—Councilman W. D. Lane, acting mayor during Mayor Ole Hanson's recent absence in the east, and 300 men and women prominent in labor circles attended a banquet last night in honor of Euel
W. Wells and Sam Sadler, on the eve of their departure for the federal penitentiary to serve a two years' sentence for sedition. The banner of the electrical workers was hung over the face of a large American flag used as a decoration. Red carnations were used as table decorations and were worn by many of the banqueters. Wells was formerly president of the Central Labor Council.

MATHEWS HONOR THEIR HEROES

More Than 200 Members and Lady Friends Pay Tribute to Returned Fighters

Happy Affair in M.T.I. Rooms Last Evening—Silent Prayer For Those Departed

Members of the Mathew Temperance Institute, assisted by a number of invited guests, gave their returning soldiers and sailors a torridly warm reception last evening in the institution's parlors that easily outdistanced any of the innumerable ovations that the uniformed "Mats" have been receiving on land and sea, in this country and Europe, for the past two years or so.

The testimonial to the returning heroes was "warm" in every sense of the word but, despite the intense physical heat, the evening was one of positive pleasure not only for the gallant Lochinvars that found a bevy of fair ones awaiting them as they once more tread their way through the familiar scenes of the organization's quarters, but also for the other members and their evening's guests.

As their quota of nation-wide sacrifice, the Mathews gave up no less than 56 members to serve in varied branches of the national service when the exciting days of 1917 called for modern Galahads. Two of these, Frank Kelley and Francis McOsker, made the supreme sacrifice. All the rest, with the exception of half a dozen or so, were back in vibrant spirits and the best of health to enjoy last evening's happy affair. Some of them were still in uniform—just recently returned from Europe and its theatre of strife—while most had shed their military and naval attire for the customary civilian outfits. But the latter did not "get away" with their disguise. They were immediately picked out and made to realize that they were the "high lights" of the evening.

The evening's program included a most appetizing turkey supper, capably served by Caterer Martin Lidon, a program of speechmaking and music and then general dancing from 9:30 until the early hours of the morning. The hall was patriotically and tastefully decorated for the affair under the direction of a committee headed by Boss Decorator Bernard Rourke. Streamers of the national colors and others of artificial floral effect darted from all sides of the hall to a central nucleus in the form of a chandelier, also of the national colors, extending over the heads of the diners. Lighted candles afforded illumination and the walls of the hall were banked in solid banks of red, white and blue, serving as a background for the pictures of Father Mathew, founder of the organization; the two members of the organization who gave up their lives in the recent war, and others prominent in the institute's history. Broderick's orchestra was cloistered in one of the cool corners of the hall.

It was 7:30 when the musicians struck up a zipling march and a hundred couples marched to their seats at the long tables. The costumes of the young women, broken at intervals by a uniform and more frequently by the sterner attire of the civilian members, provided a most pleasing entourage for the scene as a whole.

Following the supper, President P. Frank Reilly called to order and briefly told of the purpose of the gathering—to tender a reception and testimonial to the half-hundred members who played their part in the world conflict. He then introduced John W. Sharkey as toastmaster of the evening. Previously the assembly had sung the national anthem, and Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D., spiritual director, offered grace.

Mr. Sharkey expressed the pleasure of the members of the organization in being able to welcome home so many fighting soldiers and sailors who gained many of their early lessons of patriotism in the ranks of Mathewdom. He told of the gloomy days of 1917 when the heroes left the ranks of the organization, one by one, to undertake the big tasks before them and how the remembrance of those sad days accentuated the joy of the present occasion.

Thomas F. Kelley, one of the returning soldiers, sang several solos and was given a big hand. The toastmaster then introduced Rev. Dr. Keleher, for years a "standby" of the organization.

Rev. Daniel J. Keleher

Rev. Dr. Keleher spoke in part as follows:

"We all remember the gloomy days when our country was entering the war that your toastmaster has just referred to. They were gloomy days because we all knew what tremendous sacrifices we as a people were about to be called upon to make and we knew that some of those who were going away would never return.

"Those days are gone by. The people of Lowell acted splendidly. The people of St. Peter's parish acted splendidly; we sent 525 of our young men into the service and the other parishes did equally as well. The boys and girls of the Mathews acted splendidly—the girls because they let the boys go.

"Not a day passed since the beginning of the war that I did not ask God to look over the boys of St. Peter's and all our boys who went out to war. It is really wonderful how many have returned and we should thank God for this.

"You have two gold stars on your service flag. We must think of those who will not come back, even in the midst of this justification. I hope this society will continue to flourish for many years to come and that the memories of these boys will be an inspiration to future members."

A Silent Prayer

Rev. Dr. Keleher then asked that all present stand and offer a silent prayer for the two members who gave up their lives in the service. The scene was a most impressive one as the young people in the midst of joyful surroundings stood with bowed heads out of reverence to their departed heroes.

Mrs. Mary Dillon Doherty scored a big hit with several snappy songs and J. Warren Kane, another feted hero, "went big" in a selected number.

Color Sergt. Walter T. Powers, a former member of Co. C of the old Sixth regiment was called upon and he responded gracefully and appreciatively for the soldiers and sailors. In addition he gave a brief but interesting resume of his experiences in the national service.

Miss Alice Murningham, dainty and "peppery" as one could wish, was next called upon and she sent two "Frenchy" numbers across the plate with all the zest of a Marie of Pares.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson

The next speaker was Mayor Perry D. Thompson, always a welcome visitor at the Mathew rooms. His Honor paid a tribute to the previous speaker, Sergt. Powers, and brought out a fact which the latter had modestly omitted. The mayor said that Sergt. Powers was one of three sons to enter the service. On the morning he went away Mayor Thompson had occasion to visit Mrs. Powers and asked her if she were not sorry to see all her boys go. She replied that she felt that that was her part and she was glad to do it. The mayor then assured those present that they might always call upon him because he had found during his term of office that he could always call upon the Mathews. He congratulated them on the excellent part they had played in the world war.

Edward F. Slattery

The final speaker was Probation Officer Edward F. Slattery, one of the oldest members of the organization, who expressed a welcome to the returned heroes on behalf of the "old guard" and urged the younger members to continue the good work of the institute.

Those seated at the head table at the banquet included Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D., President P. Frank Reilly, John W. Sharkey, Edward F. Slattery, Sergt. Walter J. Powers, William Draper, Chief Petty Officer William H. Carey, John J. Townsend, Joseph McOsker, Miss Teresa Welch and Miss Exilda Ouellette.

A Clear Head is needed to cope with the complex conditions of modern life. A steady brain and a far-seeing eye are the first things needed to progress. Many lag behind in the race because of their physical condition. Male or female, you cannot do your work properly if your digestive organs are in bad condition or your system run down. Your food will not assimilate and your blood does not nourish.

A Healthy Body

is the result of sound digestion and active liver. As soon as the digestive organs get out of order the general health declines. The joy of living vanishes, and all seems dark. It is a simple matter to keep the liver and stomach in good condition. Why suffer when a resort to Beecham's Pills will relieve you and a sensible use of them will avoid trouble? Thousands have learned that they can trust them. Why not start at once? Clear the head, stimulate the mind, by toning your digestive system.

NOT MUCH DOPE SOLD IN LOWELL THESE DAYS

It is safe to say that the reign of the dope fiend in Lowell terminated several years ago, at least the city is practically free of such persons now. The drug stores are the barometers of their influx and ebb and as far as can be learned persons addicted to the use of drugs and dope make but few attempts to secure the "stuff."

The most pertinent proof that the drug habit has but few devotees in Lowell was given this morning by a prominent druggist, who told us that in 1904 before the first narcotic law went into effect he bought at wholesale for his Lowell store 50 ounces of morphine, while last year, 1918, he purchased but one-eighth of an ounce. Four hundred times as much 15 years ago.

Federal and state laws governing the sale of narcotics have become so stringent as to almost defy sham on the part of the desired user. Lowell druggists rarely ever get a call for a narcotic which is not accompanied by a doctor's prescription, and if such a call does come it is promptly refused.

Only through the medium of a doctor's prescription does the law allow narcotics to be sold by druggists and this prescription filled out in such a manner as to form a complete and checking record. The name of the patient for whom the narcotic is pre-

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bifro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bifro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by J. W. Dow in Lowell and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bifro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear; dull eyes ought to brighten and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health. CAUTION: Although bifro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its tendency to increase weight, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—Adve.

scribed, the patient's age, his address, the prescription itself, the doctor's full name and registration number must all be on the prescription and the original prescription must be signed by the person receiving it. This last compulsory act, in the mind of the druggist, is the only law in the law, as it allows a minor to get the prescription in instances when the patient is unable to call for it. In addition to this a druggist's label must go on the bottle or package and this carries the following information: Name of firm and registration number and the name, age, etc., of the patient.

The list of narcotics contains the following names: Opium, codeine, morphine and heroin, all listed as such under the federal law, and cannabis indica and cannabis sativa listed under the state law. There are also the derivatives such as eucaine, novocaine, halocaine and aesthetine.

There are, however, certain exemptions to the law which allow sale over the counter without the accompanying doctor's prescription. These exemptions come in the sale of cough and diarrhoea medicines and paregoric and at the time of sale just a record is kept containing the name of the purchaser, address, the article delivered and the amount of narcotic contained therein. The amounts exempted are: Opium, two grains per ounce; morphine, 1/4 grain per ounce; codeine, one grain per ounce and heroin, 1/2 grain per ounce. This is a brand new law which went into effect May 1 of this year and the government is supposed to furnish blanks for the purpose of recording the sales, but as yet none has been received locally.

It is almost as hard for the druggist to obtain a narcotic from a wholesaler as it is for a customer to get it from the retail man, or at least, it entails just about as much red tape. The druggist must obtain it by presenting filled out printed forms from the U. S. internal revenue office and physicians must make their purchases from wholesalers by similar methods.

Here's another pretty good reason why narcotics are not being purchased in the same large amounts as formerly. Morphine at wholesale now costs $16.50 an ounce, while along about 1904, 1905 and 1906 it was only $2.50 an ounce.

A druggist cannot repeatedly sell an exempted article to the same person, for it soon becomes evident that the purchaser is getting it solely for the amount of dope it contains. For instance, a two ounce bottle of paregoric contains 1.5 grains of opium per ounce and if a person buys it continuously he is obtaining considerable narcotic. Most drug stores keep all their narcotics in one place and in many cases under lock and key.

LOWELL BOY DROWNED IN PISCATAQUOG RIVER

Walter J. Gookin, son of John J. and Elizabeth (Farrington) Gookin, of 15 Aberdeen street, this city, aged 17 years, a student at St. Anselm's college in Manchester, N. H., was drowned while bathing in the Piscataquog river yesterday. Deceased was a third-year student at the college high school and the news of his untimely death will be received with grief by his many Lowell friends. He leaves to mourn his loss besides his parents, two brothers, John F. and Paul A., and a sister, Miss Mary R. Gookin. The body was removed to the home of the parents by Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

Mr. John J. Gookin, father of the boy who was drowned, is employed by the Middlesex Machine Co. in Paige st.

LOWELL COMMERCIAL COLLEGE WINS

At the annual convention of the New England Business College association held at Barre, Mass., May 30, Principal Earle R. of Milford, N. H., and Hazel Soule of Pepperell, Mass.

The conditions of the contest required each school to submit six writers in each contest and the trophy was awarded to the school which contained the highest average in the three contests. The international rules governed the contest, a penalty of 10 words being deducted for each error. One-half of the contestants were novices, or beginners of this year, and one-half were pupils who had studied typewriting previous to this school year.

words net perfect per minute. Many of the individual records were in excess of this; Miss Peltier writing 101.7 words net perfect per minute in the final contest in Class A for experienced writers, and Miss Marjorie Armstrong writing 80.3 words net perfect per minute in Class B, or the novice class. Both of these young ladies were awarded gold medals for the fastest individual speeds in their respective classes.

Second place in the contest was won by the Stone Business college of New Haven, Conn., with a net average of 57.2 words per minute.

J. N. Kimball, the stenographic expert of New York, and who has charge of the international contests and numerous city and state contests from coast to coast remarked when presenting the trophy to Earle R. Kimball on the high standard of typewriting in New England schools as compared with those in any other part of the country, particularly New York. He congratulated the Lowell school especially because the trophy was won on the work of several pupils rather than on the individual ability of any single one.

And little Dorothy, aged 11 months, was certainly a big little baby. She was the heaviest baby weighed yesterday. Dorothy is only 11 months old and weighs exactly 36 1-2 pounds. This is overweight—28 3-4 pounds being normal weight for a child the age of Dorothy. But she was quite the healthiest and dearest little lot we have seen in a long time. Why not bring in your baby and see if it is normal as to weight and height? Incidentally, your baby will thus have a chance to win the silver loving cup to be given the prize baby.

Lowell Man Gets License Back—Commission Re-vokes Delaney's License

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, June 3.—The Massachusetts highway commission has decided that Manfred A. Macomber of Lowell was not guilty of any serious fault in connection with the accident in which he was involved May 4, and which resulted in the death of Bert E. Cole. As a result of this decision, the commission has reinstated and returned Macomber's license, which was suspended immediately after the accident occurred.

In the case of John A. Delaney, however, the commission states that it is unable to find that the accident in which he was involved April 14, and which resulted in the death of Clara Leblanc, occurred without serious fault on his part, and as a consequence it has been compelled to revoke his license.

The commission has suspended the license of Louis A. Olney of Lowell, pending an investigation of the accident in which he was involved May 23, and which resulted in the death of Pearl Paquette.

The Family Who Begged—For Dessert

"I'd just like to make some ice cream for dinner tonight," said Mrs. Graham as she and Mrs. Norton sat sewing on the porch one afternoon. "But my ice cream always turns out thin and watery."

"Did you ever try making ice cream with Pudding?" asked Mrs. Norton. "I think I have tried making it with everything under the sun!" exclaimed Mrs. Graham.

"Pudding makes ice cream smooth and velvety," said Mrs. Norton. "You'll be delighted with it."

"What is it?" said her friend.

"It's a prepared dessert," she answered, "and more. You see, I never had much success with making cornstarch pudding, and one day somebody told me about Pudding. Now we all most live on it."

"Is it hard to make?" inquired Mrs. Graham.

"Oh, no! all you do is to add sugar and milk, either fresh or condensed, and boil for five minutes. It always turns out right. I pour mine into a mold, and then when it cools, have a firm, smooth, dessert, rich and creamy. And it's so pure and wholesome, I let the children have as much of it as they want."

"What flavor is it?" said her friend.

"Oh, you can get any flavor you like—your favorite—chocolate, vanilla, orange or lemon—and it's so economical. Why, one 15c package will serve 15 people."

"But you said something about making ice cream with it," said Mrs. Graham.

"Yes, indeed," answered Mrs. Norton, emphatically. "There's the simplest and best recipe in the Pudding package. And for your cake, cake fillings—why, you'll be delighted with their richness and creaminess."

A few days later the friends met. "My dear," exclaimed Mrs. Graham, "I bought some Pudding and made the most delicious ice cream you ever tasted, and now my family fairly begs for a Pudding dessert for every meal."

"Get some Pudding at your grocer's today," advised Mrs. Norton.

DEATHS

HALLAS—Miss Addie Augusta Hallas, a well known resident of this city, passed away yesterday morning at the Lowell General Hospital after a prolonged illness, at the age of 48 years. She was born in Braintree and had lived in this city all of her life. She is survived by her father, Allen Hallas; one sister, Mrs. Albert E. Willis of this city. Miss Hallas was a member of the First Baptist church, also of the King's Daughters. Her body was removed to her home, 14 Bourne street, by Undertaker William H. Saunders.

SAFFORD—Elizabeth Boardman Safford, widow of Truman Henry Safford, died in New York city June 2. She leaves four sons, John H. of Paterson, N. J., Walter B. and Charles J. of New York city and Arthur E. Safford, 82 Rogers street, Tewksbury. Her husband was born in Wisconsin. The interment will be in Williamstown, Mass.

HERNSOME—Miss Marion Hersome, daughter of Albra W. Hersome, died yesterday at the home of her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hersome, 832 Rogers street, Tewksbury, aged 20 years. She leaves her father, one brother, Clyde E., and a sister, Bertha T. Hersome and her grandparents.

CLOSED FOR REPAIRS
It was reported today that there was a strike at the plant of the W. H. Bagshaw Co. in Warren street, but this was denied at the office of the company. It was stated there that the plant was closed for the week for general repairs.

Plot Planned in Chicago

Continued
The creation of a new bureau by the department of justice with William J. Flynn as its head and which will have as its paramount duty the crushing of the anti-government movement in this country, agents of the federal government throughout the country and detective forces in this and scores of other cities today renewed with vigor their efforts to run down those responsible for Monday night's bomb explosions.

Although the authorities are working behind a tightly drawn veil of secrecy for obvious reasons, it was stated that, despite intimations yesterday that the identity of the man killed here by his own bomb when he attempted to assassinate Atty. Gen. Palmer, had been established, no tangible clues that might lead to apprehension of the plotters had been found. Chief Flynn himself, regarded as the foremost authority in the country on anarchism and their activities, already has caused persons known to be radicals of the dangerous type to be put under surveillance by agents of the department of justice in practically every city the reds are known to frequent.

There was no development to change the views of the police and special agents here that the explosion of the bomb at Atty. Gen. Palmer's home which wrecked the front of that residence, badly damaged those adjoining and killed the perpetrator, was the work of one man. This man, an Italian, the police say, arrived here from Philadelphia a little more than half an hour before the explosion. That his coming was a part of the plot in which the outrage here was only one of many planned for that night, the police have no doubt.

PLOTTERS OPERATE UNDER ORDERS FROM RUSSIAN RED QUARTERS IN NEW YORK

PITTSBURG, Pa., June 4.—Evidence that anarchists responsible for bomb explosions at the homes of Judge W. H. Thompson of the United States district court and W. W. Sibray, chief inspector of the bureau of immigration, Monday night, were operating under orders from Russian radical headquarters at 123 East 15th street, New York, was in possession of the police today.

Arrested After Battle

According to an announcement by Superintendent R. J. Alderdice of the bureau of police, John Johnson, president of the local I.W.W. organization, who was arrested yesterday after a fight with detectives, came to Pittsburgh from New York two weeks ago at the instance of "No. 1091," William D. Haywood, president of the National I.W.W. according to Mr. Alderdice bears the pass No. 1001.

Score Held in Jail

Johnson, who the police say, was the directing genius of the bomb plot in this city was held in jail today with a score of other alleged anarchists who were arrested yesterday and last night. Bail was refused in each case. In a partial confession made to the police late yesterday, Johnson is said to have named a Cleveland man as the maker of the bombs exploded here. This man, whose name the police withheld, also is said to have operated under orders of the radical headquarters in New York and is believed to have gone to Chicago after the explosions here. A search for him was made in Chicago today.

Russian Under Arrest
Among the suspects arrested is Mike Riosta, also known as Zeleste, said by the police to be secretary of the Russian soviet organization in Pittsburgh and a delegate from the Petrograd council of workmen and peasants sent to this country to spread Bolshevik propaganda. A large quantity of I.W.W. and anarchist literature was found on the suspects, which the police turned over to agents of the department of justice to aid in running down perpetrators of the nation-wide bomb plot.

Four Narrowly Escaped in Portland Fire

PORTLAND, Me., June 4.—Four persons narrowly escaped death in a fire of unknown origin which burned the entire plant of the Cash Fuel Co., on Washington avenue, near Tukey's bridge today. The loss was estimated at $200,000, on which there is an insurance of $40,000. Eight horses were burned.

Samuel E. Marston, the watchman, who was off duty, was rescued from his apartment over the office. His sister, Mrs. Sadie Marston, was burned about the arms and back in leaving the building with her sons, John and Harold. John Marston was burned about the arms. Frank Boothby, a fireman, who attempted to rescue the horses, was slightly burned.

Snyder Elected Los Angeles Mayor

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 4.—Former Mayor Meredith P. Snyder was elected mayor by a plurality of more than 20,000 over Frederick T. Woodman, present mayor, according to returns compiled from two-thirds of the vote in yesterday's municipal election.

Mayor Woodman was recently acquitted of a charge of receiving money to project vice.

LOWELL WOMAN HARDLY ABLE TO MOVE WITH RHEUMATISM

Swollen Painful Joints Rapidly Disappeared by Use of New Remedy Weldon

"I want to say a few words for others who may be suffering as I was," said Mrs. V. Geromini of 90 Lincoln St., Lowell:

Mrs. Geromini, Showing Wonderful Health After Taking Weldon.

"Last year I was forced to go to bed because of rheumatism. My limbs were swollen and extremely painful. My hands, arms and back kept me in agony all the time. It was impossible to get to sleep because of the pain and suffering and at times I had to sit in a chair, hardly able to move. I saw Weldon advertised and as it was helping so many who suffered as I did, I decided to give it a trial. I had very little confidence that Weldon would help me as I had tried doctor after doctor, as well as many different remedies advertised and recommended, but always to be disappointed, in fact many times the medicine disturbed my stomach. After taking Weldon a week I could see it was helping me, my stomach got better, the pain and swelling gradually left me and now I am able to be up and around almost as well as ever I was."

Every sufferer who neglects to try Weldon is doing himself an injury and suffering needlessly. Weldon does not contain alcohol, opiates or habit forming drugs but is composed of herbs, roots and other medicinal ingredients which tend to drive rheumatism from the blood. It was stated that the Weldon man would continue to meet the public at Dows, the druggists, to explain more about Weldon and to give out the free books "Germs of Rheumatism."

See Mr. Quinn

from restraint' is one of its elements of strength, as it is thus enabled to fill in many unanticipated gaps in our community organization and do many a public service that otherwise would remain undone, while performing its primary function of encouraging and co-ordinating our commercial activities. It is the function of the board to make the needs of business men known to each other; to make the needs of the community known to the men of business and vice versa, and also to bring to the attention of our city, state and national governments the deliberate judgments of our men of affairs on the many novel and important problems of our civil life that arise throughout the year. In this sense it is the liaison agency of the city, keeping as it does the different interests of the community in touch with each other and thus promoting among them the most effective co-operation.

Under the new by-laws now adopted the administration of the board's affairs will take somewhat new form. The new administration, as it lies in my mind, will function chiefly through a few important standing committees

JOHN M. O'DONOGHUE.

Other temporary committees will be appointed from time to time to accomplish specific missions.

The new executive committee will contain five members where it previously contained but three other than the president and secretary. Each of these five will act as chairman of one of the standing committees. Upon the members of the executive committee will fall most of the work which the president can delegate. Each of these chairmen will be responsible for the success of the special department confided to his committee.

The incoming administration is to follow what has been a particularly brilliant period in the board's history. For several administrations the board has been extremely active and successful and has held the high esteem and confidence of the entire community, more especially those of the community who were best informed as to the details of the board's accomplishments. It may be that improvement still can be made in the matter of keeping the members of the board and the community at large in more intimate touch with the things that are planned; the things that have been accomplished by the board. An effort will be made in this direction and if this can be done and if at the same time the board's already high standard of accomplishment can be maintained and if the issues of the hour can be squarely met as they arise and fairly and wisely dealt with, as they have been dealt with in the past, I know that I can count upon the continued support of the rank and file of the board and probably justify, in some small measure, that confidence which the members of the board, by my election, have so generously expressed.

Secretary John J. O'Rourke, completing his first year as secretary, presented a report in detail covering the efforts of the board of trade during the past year. He told of the hard efforts made to have the United States government start a housing program here, finally crowned with success, only to have the armistice signing stop work already started and told of means undertaken by the board during the time the influenza was claiming hundreds of victims in this city. Other propositions discussed by him upon which definite action has been taken by the board of trade were, using the space about the police station as a municipal parking place for motor cars, plans following out the "city beautiful" idea, railway fares, improving shipping facilities, war activities of the board, Americanization, the Memorial auditorium, build-your-own-home campaign and getting new industries for Lowell.

PRODUCTION, ADVERTISING, PROSPERITY

The United States Department of Labor says: "Let's continue production and insure prosperity."

Well spoken and well advised. But the thing we produce must be advertised. The deaf and dumb man, poor fellow, doesn't get much attention until somebody runs over him. The result of production must be advertised for the reason that prosperity is only attained because the thing produced is skillfully advertised.

Whether you like it or not, Mr. Business Man, the public depends on advertisements as its guide to the thing it may buy. This is a safe hunch and if you refuse to believe it from us, ask the merchant who is changing his small, antiquated cash register for a larger one.

With equitable relations obtaining between the worker and the employer, there will be no question as to the quality and the quantity of production in all lines. And there will be no question of a widely distributed prosperity, if the product reaches its market by means of advertising.

In advertising in Lowell, you have to start at the root of efficient and far-reaching method. You are reaching 90 per cent of the homes of Lowell when you contract for space in

POLICE STRIKES

In recent months, there has been considerable talk of strikes among police and firemen. Both crafts have grievances which they have a right to overcome or to have remedied by every practicable means in their power; but we do not believe that either police or firemen should be permitted to strike. But no such mandate can be made without providing some satisfactory method of dealing with demands coming from these departments.

At the present time, the police department is agitating for one day off in eight, which is not an unreasonable demand considering the fact that the 8 hour day is being agitated all over the country and that some crafts are agitating for a 44 hour day. As for the firemen, they will soon come forward with a demand for a double platoon system and that will come eventually, although the city of Lowell at the present time cannot well afford the expense that such a change would bring.

Public safety demands the uninterrupted service of the police and fire departments in every city. If they leave their posts, the public safety is imperiled. For this reason they should have some means of procuring redress of their grievances without resort to strike. There has been a sufficient number of examples in different parts of the country to justify action that would prevent such strikes in the future. Yet, none of the state legislatures or the cities affected have taken any steps to prevent policemen and firemen taking part in labor strikes or going out on strikes in their own behalf. The first step would be to constitute some board of arbitration of the demands of police or firemen, the decisions of which would be binding on both parties.

It must be apparent that a strike of police officers would have a most demoralizing effect upon the rougher element in every community. Where there is even a remote possibility of such strikes, it will be necessary to maintain a reserve force to be called upon; but if these belonged to the union, they would also refuse to work. Hence the necessity of prohibiting such strikes.

AUSTRIAN TREATY

The Austrian treaty, so far as can be judged from the summary of it given out, seems to be more drastic in its provisions than the German treaty. It goes into more minute details of what the future government shall be than does the German document. Parts of it sound much like our Declaration of Independence, assuring the protection of life, liberty and equality before the law to all the peoples under the Austrian government, regardless of race, creed, language or religion. Contrary to the American principle of government, however, the treaty provides that Austrian nationals belonging to racial, religious or linguistic minorities are to have the same protection as other Austrian nationals in regard to schools and other educational establishments; and it further provides that where a considerable proportion of Austrian nationals of other than German speech are residents, facilities are to be given for the instruction of their children in their own language and an equitable share of public funds is to be provided for the purpose.

That policy has long been tabooed in the United States as a danger to the foundations of our government, and it is diametrically opposed to the present policy of urging all to use one language.

The Austrian delegation to the peace congress comes before the representatives of the allies with a spirit of meekness in striking contrast to the attitude of the Germans. They beg that the terms may not be such as they cannot bear and appeal to the humane spirit of the allies for leniency. They are likely to gain more by this method than by adopting a haughty and imperious tone such as exhibited by the chairman of the German delegation.

Austria is robbed of her imperial authority and will hereafter be obliged to conduct her governmental affairs under the principles of justice and equality embodied in the treaty now submitted for her approval.

STAMP OUT ANARCHY

The Reds, the anarchists, the socialists, Bolsheviks or whatever they may be called, have made another attempt to create a reign of terror in this country by having bombs planted to destroy the homes of public men who have been officially or otherwise prominent in opposing the radical revolutionary propaganda.

This demonstration is intended to intimidate certain men whose duty it is to enforce the law. But it will have the opposite effect. The Washington authorities must now set out to grapple in earnest with this monster. Anarchy must be stamped out in this country. The men must be ferreted out and either deported or shot. It is of no use to imprison those who are caught and have those who are still free continue to apply the bomb and the torch. All Russians, except those on official business, should be barred from entering this country. Many of those already here should be deported.

The yellow peril, over which California raises such a howl, is mild compared to that which now threatens this nation under the name of the Bolshevik, which is but another name for unbridled anarchy.

LOCKS AND CANALS POLICY

After long delay, the Locks and Canals company notifies the public service commission that it will repair the bridge on Broadway. The company has done a serious damage to the city of Lowell and inflicted heavy financial loss upon the Bay State Street railway by its refusal to keep the bridge in a safe condition. It is the company's policy never to do anything calling for the expenditure of money that it can avoid by legal chicanery. In this case, there was no excuse whatever for attempting to place the responsibility for the unsafety of the Broadway bridge upon the Bay State Street Railway company. That company is simply using the streets where it has a franchise so to do, and the streets are supposed to be in passable condition. The Locks and Canals company having its system of canals running under our streets, must necessarily have bridges over those canals and it is legally bound to keep these bridges in repair. The case of the Broadway bridge indicates that the company is trying to evade its responsibility and that in the future, it should be promptly compelled to put its bridges in order whenever notified by the city authorities that they are not in safe condition.

SOVIET PROPAGANDA

We are informed that certain publications advocating the soviet form of Bolshevik government, are being distributed in this city by the children of Russian Poles, resident in this city. The little ones are used for this purpose by their seniors who are afraid to do the work themselves. The Polish people of this city should now have some national pride in being citizens of this great republic and of being able to point to their native land set free by the peace congress, after centuries of oppression. They should not allow their children to be used as the agents of any Bolshevik propaganda. Much less should any of the Poles be engaged in any such propaganda. It is well to understand that under present conditions this is very serious business, and that the people engaged in it, if detected, may be severely dealt with by the federal authorities.

SEND YOUR WASTE

The Lowell Guild is an agency for good in this city. It is now engaged in the collection of waste and calls for whatever waste material in the line of cast off clothing and rubbers that may not be needed in the household. This offers every household a splendid opportunity to get rid of the old trash that accumulates in closets and attics, inviting moths and always a source of trouble because taking up space that is needed for other purposes. Gather the old clothing, old hats and bonnets, old rags and rubbers, and all other forms of household waste, and pack them in bags for the Lowell Guild, whose agents will call for them. It is better to do this than to throw the stuff in the ash barrels or even sell it to ragmen for little or nothing.

MAKING GOOD CITIZENS

The attorneys in charge of the naturalization court in this city have remarked that the applicants for citizenship have shown a marked degree of improvement in preparation over former applicants examined in this city. This is said to be due mainly to the efforts of Supt. Molloy of the school department, who has made a specialty of preparing our foreign residents for assuming the responsibilities of citizenship. Thus it is proved that the citizenship classes are doing a very effective and very useful work.

If this daylight saving law is repealed, we never want to hear any farmer hereafter bemoan his lot or the lack of remuneration for his hard work. City workers exist as the majority in this case, but with Washington now submissive, it is believed the farmers will get the saving daylight law repealed. On this occasion, at any rate, it seems the farmer has hosed the country and its government.

It would seem as if the boosters for St. John's, Newfoundland, as a port of entry, would have to go some to counteract the conditions the climate of the North Atlantic enforces there occasionally. Last week, 1000 soldiers anxious to disembark and be on their way to different places in Newfoundland, were held up three days in the harbor waiting for fog and ice to get out of the way.

Hurry that bathhouse stuff, Mr. Mayor.

First you wear a stiff hat and discard it for the soft bow. Then you try to tip it to the lady and make an awful mess of it because the brim is not stiff and just about the time you get used to grabbing it by the top as it should be grabbed, you don your straw lid or hay hat—and you keep on grabbing. Terrible!

The Red Necktie

Don't let your heart speak through your necktie. It is quite the natural thing for young swains and lovers to try to express by flaming neckties the passion that consumes their hearts. But don't oh, ye swains and lovers! You don't realize what a bad effect your flamboyant adornment has upon the woman you love. No man ever won a girl's love by wearing a red necktie. If he won the girl, it was in spite of his necktie. Parents don't often tell their young sons how to go about the delicate problem of wooing. Generally it is because the boys don't confide in their parents, and often it is because the parents would not want to admit the mistakes they themselves made in their youth. And so the same mistakes are repeated generation after generation. The greatest of all these mistakes is the lover's necktie. If a man wants to make himself ridiculous in the eyes of his lady fair, let him play the peacock. Let him blossom out in flower-bedecked neckties, pink shirts and purple socks, and see how courting progresses! The girl of his heart will be repelled by that adornment. To jolly Jimmy along, she will declare the colors are becoming to him. But in her heart of hearts she will make up her mind that no shall be her sole answer when Jimmy slips his arms about her waist and begs her to be his cook "until death do us part." Do you know what the red necktie does to you, Mr. Jimmy? You're so sure that your socks and the marigold in your buttonhole will do your courting for you that you become tongue-tied. You stammer a few words, and then you feel self-conscious. You get a whiff of that scent you put on your hair, and that unnerves you. Maybe, it's only bay rum, after all. The barber fooled you when he told you it came from Paris. You wonder whether or she has noticed it, too. And by that time mother has come into the room to feed the canary, and the golden moment has slipped by. Or, if you do have time to kneel down to make your declaration of love, your Sunday shoes begin to squeak and pinch—and that of all things, is most disconcerting. They all can hear that noise as far out as the barn, you are sure. So you forget all the fine things you memorized on your way over; and unless luck is on your side, you lose your balance and bump your nose on the arm of the beloved's chair. If you take my advice, Mr. Jimmy, you'd far better do your courting in your every-day working clothes. You don't have to do up to win a girl's love. The girl you want to marry must love you, not your dandelion boutonniere and the Parisian cucumber cream you have rubbed into your hands.

Cleanup Week at Home

Clemenceau's great in Paris; out! Orlando's great in Rome; But our town banks on You and Me; It's cleanup week at home. Let's to the work we have to do. Nor think it cause to blush: Our ancient symbols still stand true—The shovel, mop and brush!

Our Congress sits in old D. C., Beneath the nation's dome, But sitting won't serve you and me In cleanup week at home. So up and at him! smite the foe In hard assaults and sallies, And rout him out, as on we go Through cellars, yards and alleys.

Poch, Haig and Pershing smote the Hun Across Atlantic's foam. But we've got something on the run In cleanup week at home. "At-ten-shun! com'ny! fix arms! fix!"

Nor ever tire nor yield! A swifter is our goodly sword, A garbage-can our shield!

So rake the town of ash and trash, As with a fine tooth comb; It pays in comfort and in cash, This cleanup week at home. The sword may give us power and place, Then pen may yield us hope, But for the safety of the race, A rampart 'Bor of Soap!"

BY EDMUND VANCE COOKE, (Copyright, 1919, N.E.A.)

MAN ABOUT TOWN

There is one young woman in Lawrence who doesn't like Lowell very well and when she told us about it the other day we, quizzical like, asked the reason why. "Well," she said, "when people will try to rob you in broad daylight, the town or city in which these people live or operate is a pretty good place to keep away from. I drove my automobile to Lowell the other day and left it standing in Bridge street. I called at a drug store and from where I stood I could see my machine. I noticed two well dressed young men examining it quite closely and, inasmuch as it is a new machine and pretty nifty looking, I thought they were admiring it. My eyes were off the machine only while I was drinking a glass of soda. When I returned to the street one young man stood at the hood of the machine and the other at the rear. The fellow in the rear walked away quickly while the other fellow said something in admiration of the car and walked nonchalantly by me and into a store. I had a new wheel securely strapped and locked on the rear of my machine and when I got home my brother asked me if I had had tire trouble. I said no and asked him why he thought so. Then he called my attention to the steel fastening. The young man who was standing in the rear of the machine when I came out of the store had cut the straps, but did not have time to undo the lock. If I had not put in an appearance they would have taken the wheel and now I have told you why I don't like Lowell." Of course there were things we could have said about Lawrence in rebuttal, as it were, but we didn't want to be put in the position of defending auto tire thieves.

It seems as though some of the papers down Virginia way must have a hazy idea about Lowell or about the entire subject of their geography in general. For instance in connection with the writeup a paper in a Virginia coast city gave Anthony Schwartz, of 165 Grand street, it mentioned that he hailed from "Lowell, Mass., famous for shoes and poets." Very incorrect. We have only five shoemaking plants in Lowell and Lowell does not make any men's shoes at all. We regard shoemaking here as a minor industry. As for poets the Virginia reporter may think our city was named for the poet, Jas. Russell Lowell, which is in correct and for our poetical ability we are characteristically modest and if the Virginia brother thinks we are a tribe of poets up here, far be it from us to spoil his pleasant self delusion.

We all know what a sweltering day yesterday was and how little preparation people had made for such an early advent of century temperatures. Not the least cool spot in the city was City Hall, although, of course, the temperature in the various offices was below that of the outside world. The writer had occasion to travel through most of the offices in the municipal building and the one which furnished the most relief was that of the streets and highways department. A large size electric fan had been turned on at full speed here and was stirring up little whirlwinds that were most refreshing. But what paled me was that after I had stood in front of the fan a few seconds and was beginning to feel normal once more, one of the young lady clerks asked me to "please shut it off because it was giving her a headache." Well, I said to myself, this fan should be placed where it will be appreciated.

BITTER RIVALS CLASH
IN BASEBALL

A refreshing breeze traveled across the sun-baked diamond at Spaulding park this afternoon as the Lowell and Lawrence high school baseball teams lined up for the second and last series game of the year. A mass meeting at the local school in the morning had created considerable interest and the biggest crowd of the season was on hand. As usual Lawrence sent a big delegation of rooters, headed by Principal Horne of the down-river school and they offered their team every encouragement.

Lawrence has a fretful score to settle, so they say, for the ninth inning defeat handed them in their own ball-wicket on May 14, still rankles. Lowell, on the other hand, seemed confident of repeating the dose in ample measure and Coach Donahue's boys worked out fast and pretty in the hot sun. Ordway got the local pitching assignment and although it would be an eleventh hour decision in the case of Birkenhead's playing, it was believed he had sufficiently raised his scholastic attainments to be able once again to play. If he catches, Capt. Reynolds will go back to shortstop and Gus Cahill will play second.

In accordance with the Lowell-Lawrence athletic agreement, a Mr. Ryan from Haverhill, was the umpire, a neutral arbiter being necessary according to the text.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

"The Third Degree," a picturization of Charles Klein's big stage success of the same name, which will be shown for the last time today at The Strand, is easily one of the greatest dramatic film endeavors in the repertoire of picture programs given locally. Alice Joyce, who is seen in the stellar role, is most commendable and the supporting cast is high-grade. The story concerns a thrilling expose of old-time police methods of securing confessions from prisoners. An interesting love romance is also injected into the theme.

Mabel Normand, in Goldwyn's latest offering, "The Pear," is another superior brand of picture entertainment. It shows the star in one of her most entertaining roles. The other features are praiseworthy. Robert Carlson, the week's soloist is scoring a big hit. And don't forget that it's as cool as the ocean breezes at this theatre, made so by the perfected ventilation recently installed.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Jollity reigns at the B. F. Keith Theatre, this week, with an all-laughing show presented. Tom Smith and Ralph Austin, whose burlesque on things we all see in the theatre is specially well done, head the list of acts. They are unique, and never fail to make the audience roar. A. Robbins, the man whose voice can imitate the sounds of many musical instruments, is quite in a class by himself. While Frank Grunitz, with songs and dialect stories, is one of the most original of entertainers. Master Gabriel, the funny midget, recreates himself in "Little Nemo," and the Gooney sisters are singers of popular melodies, and chat-terers. Le Pollu, French band-master, plays cornets and trumpets and balances them the while. The Pedersen Brothers are wonderful acrobats and aerialists.

JITNEY MEN ARE SCORED

Women Insulted in Paige Street—License Commission Holds Hearing

"I would not allow my wife to walk up Paige street after dark," was the statement of Lieutenant Petrie at the hearing held by the license commissioners to act on the annual renewal of jitney licenses last evening.

Other members of the commission stated that many complaints had been made by Lowell women that they were insulted by men while passing by the drivers of the regulations provided for in the city's jitney ordinance.

As a result of the testimony given during the hearing Chairman Charles H. Hanson stated that from now on the jitney regulations will be completed with to the letter or else the licenses of the offenders will be summarily revoked.

The meeting opened at 8 o'clock with the three members of the commission present, Chairman Charles H. Hanson, Joseph M. McGrath and George E. Putnam.

George E. Marchand, commissioner of public property and licenses, said that numerous complaints had been made regarding the jitney drivers who are conducting business on Paige street. The men are not living up to the regulations regarding soliciting business, overcrowding their machines, and the ordinance which provides that only two cars at a time shall be halted on Paige street between Merrimack and John streets seems to have been entirely forgotten, he said.

He also stated that many complaints had been made by women who claimed they were insulted while walking up Paige street, and that there were many women who were actually afraid to walk up the street during the evening. Something should be done to do away with this state of affairs, he declared.

Commissioner Putnam followed Mr. Marchand with a vigorous protest against the alleged insults which local women who pass up Paige street are being subjected to, and also said that he had observed many of the drivers starting off with their machines overcrowded beyond reason.

Inspector James Holland also stated that the conditions on Paige street should be remedied and that it had become a common sight to see a group of loafers and women hanging around the jitney stand at this point.

Lieut. Petrie testified that Michael Hassan, a driver for the Independent Auto Co., Michael Ansara, proprietor, had left the stand with ten passengers in his car besides himself one night last week, whereas the regulations provide for only 7 passengers in his car. He had also solicited passengers for the trip, the lieutenant said.

Hassan declared that his employee had neglected to tell him anything about the jitney regulations in force, and that as he had only been employed a short time he had been ignorant of the ordinance. Mr. Ansara was called to testify and said that he had told but supposed the man had forgotten.

Officers Sullivan and Swanwick testified that no attention was paid to Hassan the provisions of the ordinance, the regulations by the jitneys, and that remonstrances were laughed at. They testified that on several occasions they had seen a line-up of a dozen cars on that part of the street allowed to the drivers.

The ordinance relative to relieving the congestion on Paige street was then read by the clerk. This ordinance provides that only two cars at a time may stop for the purpose of taking on passengers on Paige street in the following section: From Merrimack street to John street on the south side of the street, and from Merrimack to Brookings street on the opposite side.

At the conclusion of the hearing the following special chauffeurs' licenses were granted: Charles A. Kunhardt, 43 Fulton st.; George Balanis, 463 Market st.; Roy L. Gelinas, 12 Butler st.; Lawrence; Louis Patistas, 163 Adams st.; and Harry Pappas, 78 Concord st., Lawrence.

A brief hearing was held on the application of Archie Perron to conduct a lunch cart at 19 O'Connell parkway and, owing to the fact that no remonstrants were present, the license was granted. Perron's counsel said many improvements had been made to comply with the requirements.

The following minor licenses were granted by the commission:

To sell confectionery, etc., on the Lord's day: Mrs. Jennie L. Sullivan, 984 Middlesex st.; Mary F. Bezuke, 127 Hale st.; Laura M. Dayon, 657 Broadway; Fred C. Stoddard, 137 Middlesex st.; Sarah A. EMPLOYEES OF THE HIGHWAYS DEPARTMENT OF BILERICA

WANT MORE PAY

The employees of the highways department of the town of Billerica appeared before the selectmen at their regular meeting Monday evening and requested that a special town meeting be called for the purpose of taking action on their demand for an increase in wages from $3.25 a day to $4 a day. The matter was taken under advisement. In the course of the meeting the following special police officers were appointed:

Isaac Hopkinson, Chester Wright; Cassius White, James A. Ruth, William E. Livingston, Leslie Messer, John Trainor, Archibald Lloyd and Roger

Harrington. A license to slaughter cattle in accordance with the provisions of the commonwealth was granted to Charles H. Kemp.

The selectmen accepted the legacy of $1000 for a public fountain in memory of Lyman Haynes and Caroline Haynes, former residents of the town.

BILERICA'S WELCOME TO SOLDIERS AND SAILORS TO BE HELD JULY 4 AND 5

The home welcome celebration for the soldiers and sailors of the town of Billerica will be held July 4 and 5, according to reports from the board of selectmen, who are in charge of the plans. Although definite plans have not yet been made, it is stated that on July 4 there will be a parade, followed by exercises at the Centre village, after which the presentation of the medals to the heroes of the war will be made. In the evening there will be a banquet in the town hall. Band concerts will also be given at the North and Centre villages. On July 5 a list of sports will be carried out in the afternoon and in the evening a grand ball will be given in the town hall. Every organization of the town is invited to participate in the celebration.

AN ENEMY OF WOMANHOOD

The complexion, digestion and almost the complete personality of woman are dependent upon health. Woman's life is her great enemy, as they cause bad complexion, dark circles under the eyes, headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, dragging-down pains and the blues, and often totally unfit her for a companion. The great American remedy for such conditions is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has been restoring three generations of ailing women to health, and may be relied upon with perfect confidence.

HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

Y.M.C.A. Members and Friends Hear Prominent Speakers

Several hundred members and friends of the Lowell Y.M.C.A. gathered in the association gymnasium last evening for the annual banquet, and the event was indicative of a healthy growth and unbounded enthusiasm in the local work. Two prominent men from New York delivered interesting addresses, J. M. Clinton, a war worker who saw much service in France, and William H. Ball, nationally known in physical culture work. Mayor Perry D. Thompson also spoke and presented the various individual and team prizes won throughout the year, and Louis A. Olney, president of the association, presented his annual report and briefly reviewed the work of the year just closed.

Members of the ladies' auxiliary served an excellent dinner at 6.30 o'clock, the goodness of which was not in the least impaired by the excessive warmth of the evening. Campbell's orchestra furnished music and there was group singing led by L. H. Carpenter and solo by Earl Leadbetter. Mr. Olney's report showed a total membership at the present time of approximately 2000, a normal growth

"TIZ" FOR SORE, TIRED FEET--AH!

"Tiz" is grand for aching, swollen, tender, calloused feet or corns

And what relief. No more tired feet; no more burning feet; no more swollen, aching, tender, sweaty feet. No more soreness in corns, callouses, bunions. No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "Tiz." "Tiz" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. "Tiz" cures your foot trouble, so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore and swollen. Think of it, no more foot misery, no more agony from corns, callouses or bunions. Get a 25-cent box at any drug store or department store and get instant relief. Wear smaller shoes. Just once try "Tiz." Get a whole year's foot comfort for only 25 cents. Think of it.

JOCKEY BRADY CHAMPIONS GOLDINE

This Lowell lad who for 10 years held the hantaweight championship of New England and whose skill and nerve as a jockey has won him fame, says Goldine is a Great Nerve and Strength Builder, and He Knows. John Brady (Jockey Brady) of 592 Gorham street, said: "For five years I suffered from stomach trouble; my appetite was very poor and what I ate turned to gas. I didn't seem to get any strength from my food, and often had dizzy spells and was short of breath. I also had kidney trouble, had to get up eight or ten times a night and there was a great deal of sediment. I couldn't sleep nights for I was very nervous and was troubled with restlessness and dreams. I would get up more tired in the morning than when I went to bed and was growing weaker every day. I heard of Goldine and got a bottle of No. 1. I find it a wonderful medicine to build up the strength and nerves. When I was riding as jockey and during the years I held the championship I did not think of about 300 regular memberships during the past year and 300 additional soldiers' memberships. Mayor Thompson congratulated the association on its growth and enterprise and then presented the trophies, adding a happy phrase in almost every case. W. H. Ball contrasted the methods of physical training of other years to those of the present day, showing the great advantages of the modern system. He contrasted the life of our ancestors, in the open and with plenty of hard work, to that of the present day city man's routine, close, confining, nerve-racking, and with the physical activities of everyday life being gradually reduced.

He pointed to the army figures on mental deficiency as an argument for the "Y," and declared that physical perfection was just as necessary in peace as in war. He mentioned the health giving, life lengthening rewards of physical exercise, the training in right roads, of the boys and young men. The last speaker, J. M. Clinton, spoke entirely of the work of the Y.M.C.A. in foreign countries, before and during the war. He took up the activities of the association in the Philippines and warmly praised his advance along physical lines. A million boys were brought in touch with the "Y" in India, he said, and Indian boys comprised the rank and file of Gen. Allenby's armies in Palestine.

"The League of Nations being formed now will become nothing but a scrap of paper," he said, "unless a policy of constructive friendship is put into action. A lack of friendship is what has made our work hard at the peace table. The Y.M.C.A. is one of the most effective means of securing that constructive friendship." He told of the work among the Chinese and how it has helped approximately 30,000 young men and boys and touched on the Russian situation and the Bolshevik movement.

CEMETERY BOARD HOLDS MEETING

The cemetery held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon and discussed a number of complaints regarding alleged lack of care of lots in the Pawtucketville and School Street cemeteries and the upshot of the meeting was a vote instructing the superintendent to write to those who had made complaints and assure them of better care in the future.

It was also voted to award a contract for the building of a wide piazza at one end of the office building in the Edison cemetery to serve as a shelter, to James Whitte, the lowest bidder. Mr. Whitte's price was $792. The commission will hold a special meeting June 10 at 4 p. m. relative to the acquiring of additional land for the Edison cemetery.

NOTICE RELATIVE TO INCOME AND EXCESS PROFITS TAX RETURNS.

Every partnership having done business during the year 1918 must file an Income Tax return before June 15. This return must be filed regardless of the amount of profit earned by a partnership. Return to be made on a form 1065 and same can now be had by applying at Room 4 in the post-office here. Revenue Agent J. F. Quigley, representing the office of the collector of internal revenue, will be here until June 15th for the purpose of assisting persons to prepare these returns. Corporation returns must be filed by June 15th and assistance will be given in the preparation of these returns also.

SCHOOL COMMISSION

John A. Stevens Elected to High School Commission To Succeed Mr. Safford

John A. Stevens, a well known local engineer, was elected a member of the new high school commission to succeed Arthur T. Safford, resigned, at a joint meeting of the city council and school committee in the aldermanic chamber at city hall yesterday afternoon. Mr. Stevens received nine out of 10 possible votes, William L. Crowley of the school committee voting for Samuel Scott.

The meeting was called at 4.10 with all members of both bodies present. Mayor Thompson announced the purpose of the meeting—to elect a successor to Mr. Safford, whose letter of resignation he read.

Richard Brabrook Walsh, chairman of the school committee, moved that Mayor Thompson be chosen chairman of the joint session, and it was so voted. Commissioner Marchand moved that City Clerk Flynn be clerk of the joint session and this, also, was voted.

On motion of Commissioner Morris the joint body proceeded to the election of Mr. Safford's successor. Only one vote was taken, Mr. Stevens as heretofore stated, receiving nine of the ten votes.

Mr. Stevens Accepts

John A. Stevens today sent the following communication to City Clerk Stephen Flynn in acceptance of his election as a member of the new high school commission which took place yesterday:

June 4, 1919.
Dear Sir: I accept the nomination as a member of the high school building commission of the city of Lowell as a patriotic duty and assure you that I will do my level best to give the people of Lowell what they desire in the way of a modern high school and will endeavor to pursue this work to the end of the chapter.
Assuring you of my hearty co-operation,
Yours very truly,
JOHN A. STEVENS.

LEONARD EAR OIL

Relieves Deafness, Stops Head Noises

Nine out of ten cases of Deafness and Head Noises are caused by catarrh of the mucous membrane in the Eustachian Tube, which connects the nose and the ears. Leonard Ear Oil removes the mucus, opens up the tube and the other air passages of the head, and the result is improved hearing and relief from head noises. It is not put in the ears, but is "Rubbed in Back of Ears" and inserted in the nostrils, and common sense Directions for Care of Hearing, which accompany each bottle, tell you exactly how to take care of your own case. Do not be misled by substitutes or imitations. The only genuine "LEONARD EAR OIL" is A. O. Leonard Ear Oil. It is the original and has been on the market since 1907, and over a year it has relieved hundreds of people of their Ear Troubles. No matter how long you have been deaf, nor how deaf you are or what caused your deafness, or how many things you have already tried which have failed to relieve you, Leonard Ear Oil has relieved many such cases as your own. Why not go?

I Will Forfeit $1000 if the Following Testimonial Is Not Genuine and Unsolicited:

April 3, 1919.
"Dear Sir—It is with the greatest pleasure that I write you recommending your Wonderful Ear Oil. My mother has been deaf for over 20 years, and she used two bottles of your oil, and yesterday for the first time in over 20 years she heard Berry's Band play in Hemming Park here. Words are inadequate to express to you the thanks of mother and myself. I am a member of the theatrical profession and very well and favorably known here, and you can use my name in recommending your Ear Oil.
Yours gratefully,
ED. LAWRENCE.

D. L. PAGE BUYS THE WAVERLY HOTEL

Dudley L. Page has made arrangements whereby he will purchase the Waverly hotel property in Market street, now owned by the Southwick heirs. A retainer to bind the transfer already has been paid and the final papers will be passed in a week or two. In talking of the sale this morning Mr. Page said that he had no immediate plans whatsoever for the new property, but simply was buying for investment purposes, although he says, "Under the present conditions I feel that it would be to my advantage to have some place to go should I ever be obliged to vacate the present store." Asked as to whether or not he anticipated such a move, he said he did not have the slightest idea. He holds a lease on the present building in Merrimack square, which has about eight more years to run.

Mr. Page said this morning that he had anticipated a trip to Alaska about the middle of this month, but at the present time did not know whether or not his plans would carry through. He has an interest in a gold mine in that country, along with several Boston men, and as the mine has not produced anything for the past several years, several of the stockholders had planned an investigation trip. "There is a creek there which has several miles of gold in it," said Mr. Page, "but it lies under 120 feet of sand as far as I can find out." Mr. Page took a trip to British Columbia about 10 years ago and has always wanted to travel again through the northwest.

POLLARD SILK SALE IN FULL SWING

Today is the second day of the A. G. Pollard silk sale and the first day that the company has started to fill mail orders. Now as always, possession of a silk dress is a thing the majority of women desire and once attained, have a great pride in. The magnitude of the Pollard silk sale and the tremendous bargains offered—there is good ground for using the word bargains inasmuch as the store is selling a double width silk of best grade of workmanship and design at $1.25 a yard—can be gained from the fact that the Pollard store has for years been signed up with most of the silk mills all through New England and the east, to the end that all silk remnants automatically and without financial concern on the part of the silk manufacturer, reach the Pollard store as fast as they accumulate. It is thus through this means that Lowell women and women living in the vicinity of Lowell, have access to these remarkable values. A piece of silk, whether enough is bought for a dress, a blouse, or a small remnant to trim a suit or line a coat or a cape, is always a delight. It is a thing of remarkable utility too, for a silk garment, under certain conditions, can be worn in good taste at any season of the year and certainly no time more appropriate than the summer weather into which Lowell seems to be now plunged.

Giant Imperator in Collision

NEW YORK, June 4.—The former German liner Imperator, which sailed from this port yesterday for Brest, collided about 300 miles northeast of Sandy Hook last night, with the steamship Agwidale, from Rotterdam for New York. A wireless message from the Agwidale stated that she was proceeding for this port under her own power, but requested a convoy. A later wireless message stated that the Imperator was undamaged and that the damage to the Agwidale was slight. Fog was responsible for the collision.

Wilson Receives NC Commanders

PARIS, June 4.—President Wilson today received Lient. Commander A. C. Read, commander of the NC-4; Commander John H. Towers, who was in charge of the flight of the three seaplanes which attempted to fly from America to Europe, and Lieut. Commander P. N. L. Bellingier, commander of the NC-1. He congratulated them and expressed pride in the work they accomplished during the flight. The American naval airmen also were received by Georges Leygues, the French minister of marine. They were accompanied to the ministry by Admiral Beusun. They left at noon for England.

PENFOLD HOLDS MAINE TEAM IN CHECK

LEWISTON, June 4.—Penfold held Lewiston to six scattered hits three of them by Duncan and Lowell won an easy victory yesterday, 9 to 3. Bessie cut off a Lewiston rally in the third by a running catch of Drolette's drive. He fell down but held the ball. Levesque was wild, and neither he nor Cotter very effective with men on. Lowell had a big inning in the sixth, when Dover walked, Cline sacrificed, Bessie tripled to center, and Baker singled. Errors by Parent and Kost helped Lowell to her last two runs of the inning. In the eighth, a pass to Baker. Eckstein's triple to left center, a pass to Lynch and a double steal. Lynch was caught, but two Lowell tallies across. The summary:

FOUR BOUTS AT C.A.A. TOMORROW NIGHT

Pinney Boyle and Frank Molins, two local boys, are scheduled to meet in the main bout of 12 rounds at the Crescent A.A. tomorrow night. The other three bouts on the card for tomorrow night are among the best preliminaries of the season. Johnny Moran, lightweight champion of the navy who kayaked Soldier Howard of the Navy at the local club a few weeks ago, will meet a worthy foe in Young Strong of New Bedford. This will be a hard fought battle, and should be a hummer from song to song. In an eight round number Young Strong, who of Manchester and Tony Vera, or former will appear. The curtain raiser will be furnished by Young Strong, here of New Bedford and Young Crilber of Lawrence, two lively battlers, who always give satisfaction.

LOWELL FISH AND GAME ASSOCIATION

The Lowell Fish and Game association at its regular meeting held last evening voted to have an outing in September. All arrangements for the outing are in the hands of the executive committee and the exact date will be announced later. It is hinted that the outing will constitute a celebration of the restoration of the fishways in this city and Lawrence, as it is believed that the fishways, now that the money has been appropriated, will be built this summer. At the meeting last evening reports of progress were made relative to legislative matters including the fishways and the killing of the proposed fishing license. Another feature of the meeting was the announcement that 27 new members had been added and that the secretary was preparing an alphabetical list of the total membership to date. A rising vote of thanks was tendered the committee that framed the resolutions on the death of Harold A. Varnum, one of the association's most popular members who died several weeks ago.

The Call'em

When a fight club is able to stage a main bout between local boys then that club is going to be perfectly sure of a packed house. Frisandine: Tomorrow night, Frank Molins and Pinney Boyle, each with sizable gang behind him, will draw like a mustard plaster. They ought to stage a good bout, at that. The rail birds say Molins packs a mule punch which will knock a pair of them out. Pinney will do well to steer clear of.

Some Fancy Hitters
Buck Weaver of the Chicago has stepped up to fifth place among the American league hitters and now ranks just behind Bobby Veach with a mark of .356. The first five kings of swat in the junior organization are pretty well bunched, by the way, standing this morning as follows: Cobb .376, Rodie .364, Schang .352, Veach .350 and Weaver .356. Crawford and Ross, two of the Giants still continue to make a runaway of the batting race in the National league and show no signs of weakening. Their marks this morning are .455 and .455 respectively, a dizzy clip. McCarthy also of the Giants is in third place with an average of .355, 110 points back of the Philly slugger.

Wasted Energy
In the second game of the Detroit-Chicago doubleheader on Monday the teams combined made 51 hits, two of them doubles, two triples and two home runs, yet the final score was only 2 to 1. Veach shot a pair of three baggers that were absolutely unproductive.

Jesse Hank a Winner

Jesse Burkett doesn't seem to be particularly interested in the fortunes of the Haverhill club. He is supposed to have been here but has not shown up. Success of his Holy Cross college team. The Worcester nine is probably the best college team in the country today and for better than many junior league clubs. It is a wild hitting outfit and couples this rivalry offense with light hitting—much to be desired combination. Holy Cross is scheduled yesterday, 10 to 2, getting 17 hits.

Making 'Em Pitch

Roger Peckinpaugh, field captain of the New York Yankees, got back into the game Monday at Philadelphia after a two weeks' vacation and started right in to make a cross route. He went to bat five times against the Athletics and drew five bases on balls. The rest did not for the vision of his keen pair of eyes any to speak of.

Some New Faces

Lowell has picked up three or four new batsmen while on the down cast trip, namely: Baker, Eckstein, Wheeler, a first baseman, and a chap named Bessie or Bessie. Maine despatches conflict on the spelling of the last one but we are pulling for the condition which calls for two s's in place of two o's.

SPORTS MEN CELEBRATE

In celebration of their fine work on the diamond this season the members of the Mitchell school baseball team journeyed to Bald Pate Inn, Georgetown, yesterday for the annual banquet and jollification. Capt. Sherwood W. Kelly, Donald E. Whidden were the principal after-dinner speakers. Out of a schedule of 11 games, the team won 13, a most satisfactory record. A total of 118 runs were scored against 63 by opponents.

LOWELL GOLFER IN EXCELLENT MATCH

Hilbreth Maels, Vesper Country club, after working into the semi-finals in the open golf tournament at the Oakley club, Watertown, yesterday lost to Fred J. Wright, Jr. of Albemarle, 4 up and 2 to play. Maels played fine golf against the sterling low handicapper and his reputation as a coming finalist in many matches was not marred in the least.

CHARLEY PARKER

Finney Boyle of Lowell showed conclusively last night in Boston that he is slipping, when Charlie Parker laid him away in less than two ads. Less than a minute against Young Kibby last Friday night and about 5 minutes last night comprise pretty short working hours.

A right hook to the jaw in the middle of the second round started Boyle on his merry way. He took the count of nine, got up, and was then floored three times in rapid succession. The third time he fell down the shadows of the first session Boyle scored repeatedly to the head and body and finished the round with a good margin in his favor. Both boxers worked at great speed and it looked like a great scrap. Parker stopped several slinging wallops to begin the second, but began to crash the heavy ones to Finney's jaw and the Lowell boy crumbled.

RED SOX IN $30,000 FOR NEW PLAYERS

Before the Boston Red Sox get back to Boston Thursday morning at the conclusion of their first western swing around the circuit, two big deals most likely will be pulled off. Pres. Frazee is in Philadelphia today in an effort to annex Bobby Roth, while a trade of great importance and a very sensational one is now pending with the Washington club. Several Boston players and $30,000 are involved in the prospective trade with the Senators.

AMATEUR BASEBALL

The amateurs claim they had a game all fixed with the Warlocks at the Burnside grounds last Saturday but the latter team failed to show up. What's the idea? The St. Columbas team is without a game for June 7, and would like to hear from 14 or 16 year-old teams. Tel. 3069.

The undefeated Winter A.C. defeated the Young Braves on Memorial day and now challenge the Charles A. C. Answer through this paper.

The Crystals trimmed the Maple Seconds Memorial day, 14 to 1, making their third straight victory. They would like a game with the Meadow A.C. and St. Peter's 8's.

RETURN OF HOLIDAY PLEASURE RIDING

Passenger revenue on the Bay Street Street Railway system Decoration day, 1919, it was stated today, increased 30 per cent. over the same day last year.

It is interesting to note that the increase in the Chelsea district was 71 per cent., the next highest increase was in the Quincy district, 58 per cent., followed by 52 per cent. in Brockton, 47 per cent. increase in Lowell and 46 per cent. in Gloucester, with all of the other divisions increasing slightly less than average, except Hyde Park district where there was a decrease of 16 per cent.

This would indicate a probable return of pleasure riding as during both years on Decoration day the weather was fair but in 1919 it was 11 degrees warmer.

It should be noted in connection with this statement that the fares were increased during the period, the zone system having also been made effective. The average increase in fares was probably 24 per cent.

PRIZE DAY AT MITCHELL SCHOOL

The prize day exercises, incident with the closing of the year at the Mitchell Military Boys' school in Billerica, will be held on the school drill area tomorrow afternoon. Great preparations have been made for the event and the program gives every assurance of a most successful affair. Among the program numbers are calisthenics, rifle exercises, skirmish drill, tent pitching, cannon drill, Indian club drill, dumb bell drill, company drill in marching and maneuvers, silent drill and a most impressive color ceremony. ## Every Other Person Has Seborrhea

Nearly everyone suffers from the scourge of seborrhea.

But there is no need for people longer to have dandruff and falling hair.

Famo stops seborrhea and ends falling hair and itchy scalp.

It destroys the seborrhea germ by penetrating to the hair glands.

A healthy scalp results and vigorous new hair grows.

Famo contains no alcohol to dry the scalp and cause grayness.

It is sold on a positive money-back basis. If you are not satisfied with the results of the large bottle which costs One Dollar, your money will be returned.

There is also a small bottle of Famo at 35 cents. Famo is sold at all toilet goods counters and applications may be had at the better barber shops.

Seborrhea is a markedly increased flow from the sebaceous glands of the scalp. The seborrhean excretion forms in scales and flakes and is commonly known as dandruff.

THE HOUSING PROBLEM

City Housing Must Be Started From Scientific Standpoint in All Phases

In view of the fact that the housing problem in Lowell at the present time is one of the most troublesome with which the community has to contend, and in view of the fact that this problem has been considered to be of enough importance so that a $300,000 housing corporation was formed a few days ago at a board of trade meeting, some views on a city's housing problem as presented by Prof. George C. Whipple, a sanitary engineer of Harvard, in a current number of the bulletin of the state board of health, will undoubtedly be of interest to local residents.

It is now widely recognized that when attacking the problem of housing a city full of people, it must be started from a scientific standpoint in all its phases, and it is from the standpoint of a scientist and necessarily with a large measure of good old horse sense, that Prof. Whipple gives the results of his observations.

In discussing what he conceives to be the fundamental tenet of the problem, Prof. Whipple says: "A home's primary function is to shelter the family from the elements and make necessary provision for warmth, light and ventilation. There is a second function hardly less important than this first. It is to secure protection and privacy for the life of a normal family and sufficient space for normal family life."

"The modern home should have things we call conveniences, but which we have come to take so much as a matter of course that we now are inclined to regard them as necessities."

I have in mind sleeping accommodations, hot and cold running water, facilities for storing, preparing, cooking and serving food; adequate toilet facilities and bathing conveniences, facilities for removing household waste such as garbage, ashes and rubbish while it awaits removal. There should be storage space in every home for household utensils, clothing and personal belongings."

What Kind of a House?

"To have a house for the disposal of one's family involves three closely related variables, its size, its cost and how much money shall be put into building the house."

"Sometimes emphasis is placed on quality, sometimes on size and sometimes on cost. Different people have different ideas as to which is the important thing of these three. Sometimes the money in hand and the dictates of necessity prescribe what shall be done."

"Prior to the war it was a sad fact that in the majority of American families living in cities, on account of wages received and high cost of living, they could not hope to own their own home. Attempts were made to remedy this condition. But if the house were built of the size it ought to be to accommodate a workingman's family, it was found that it could only be built by putting it up with shoddy materials and construction. Then someone would attempt to build a good house for a worker with the major conveniences and it was found that this could only be done by making a house so much reduced in room capacity as to be useless for the average family."

"It was felt that one possible solution of this problem was in the introduction of the multiple house—meaning the two-family, three-decker, tall apartment houses and the like. With the present high cost of labor and materials, evidently the multiple house is the one way out. Evidently the multiple house is the only kind that can provide reasonable priced housing for city workers."

How big and how cheap?

"But in building of multiple houses the community as a whole needs to exercise the right of supervision for the best interests of all. Building multiple houses seems to go with compressing habitable space. Often small, curious looking single houses are derisively called 'race suicide' houses but for all that, oftentimes flats will have not a bit more space and will escape this stigma."

"We admit it may be easy to keep house in multiple houses. But the desirable element of family privacy and opportunities for all the members of the family, babies, children, adults and the aged, to live the normal and healthy life, seems necessarily become limited. Life thus tends to become communalistic. Communalistic life tends to moral corruption; communism is one of the tenets of Bolshevism. These influences are slow and insidious, yet fatal to society."

"Another objection which has a sound foundation, in respect to multiple houses is that it tends to build up a landlord class as opposed to a class of renters who will inevitably be antagonistic to each other. We believe that multiple houses may induce antagonistic habits on the part of the family which tends to produce an unstable society and lessen civic responsibility. There are other objections quoted as for instance the misuse of an apartment house by merely one family, hurts all the other tenants. If the house is built of wood it constitutes a fire hazard. Oftentimes multiple houses as built in a neighborhood constitute an architectural monstrosity."

What Government Can Do

"I believe the building of multiple houses should be under control of the state. There should be regulations as to location, height, bulk, occupancy of lots, size of rooms, arrangement of stairs, windows, sanitary conveniences these are all things that in my opinion properly fall within the functions of the police power which resides in the state government. ## Cakes and Compliments!

A housekeeper who can certainly serve the most delightful Sunday night suppers, gave us this COVO cake recipe. Try it when you want something really "special." See if you don't get a delightful surprise—and some delightful compliments.

COVO MARBLE CAKE

1/2 cup COVO	1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup sugar	1 1/2 cups flour
2 eggs	1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1/2 cup milk	1/2 teaspoon cinnamon
3 level teaspoons baking powder	2 tablespoons cocoa or grated chocolate
	1 tablespoon molasses

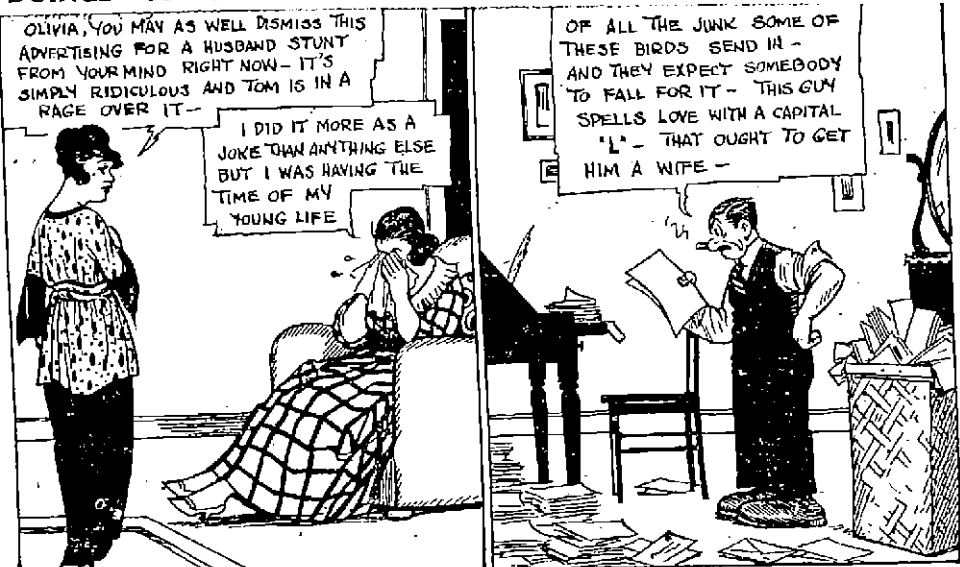

Beat egg yolks light, add sugar gradually, then beat in COVO. Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Add to first mixture alternately with milk. Fold in beaten whites. Turn 1/2 this batter into bowl, add to it spices, cocoa and molasses. Mix well. Pour into well-greased pan, alternating light and dark mixtures to give the "marbled" appearance. Bake 40 to 45 minutes in moderate oven.

TRY COVO in salads. Notice the delicious nut-like flavor. Then you'll understand why the head chef of the Waldorf endorses COVO.

Police Court News

terwards met up with one of the patrolmen who had heard Paul's story, and was promptly escorted to the station where he was booked on charges of drunkenness and larceny.

According to defendant's story, it's more or less simple when you know how. He dropped into Mr. Brunelli's drug store yesterday morning and asked young Brunelli if he would give him a ten spot for some small bills. He had to send the ten away to somebody, he explained, and of course would rather forward it "solid" than to send a bunch of small bills and change.

So he got the ten, which he placed in an envelope and sealed. Then he dug down into his jeans in search of the wherewithal for the exchange. Much to his surprise he found that he had only $3 in small currency. That was too bad. Oh, well, he'd give back the envelope with the young man's ten spot and go home and get another dollar.

He gave young Brunelli back the envelope but not the one with the ten. It contained a sheet of blank paper. As soon as the young man made the discovery he reported it to a passing policeman with the result that Cecil soon found himself giving an account to Deputy Downey at the station. He still had the envelope, had not yet spent the ten spot, and this was returned to the young man who was called over by the police official.

Cecil was short on alibis when Judge Fisher allowed him to close his case. "I was drunk I didn't know what I was doing, Your Honor," explained Cecil.

The court was of the opinion that Cecil was very much aware of what he was doing, and after finding him guilty continued the case until tomorrow for sentence. In the meantime it is understood that several other victims of Cecil's bungee game will be upon to add their version to his activities to this morning's story.

Boston Man Fined

George Bassett, of Boston, drove his diver through the streets of Lowell the other day without a license.

George affirmed to Traffic Officer Sheridan at Merrimack square that he did not need any license. "I have the registration card of the Boston firm who own the car, and for whom I am working," said George. "That's plenty license enough."

"Yes, and furthermore," added

George, "I want you to understand that I have driven this boat for nearly 100,000 miles, and no police officer has ever questioned my right to operate this car under the firm's registration."

"Well, I'm no authority on the rules and regulations of Massachusetts, but I can't see things your way," commented Officer Sheridan. "Well, let the judge decide who is right, and be the judge decide who I think you've got between you and me I think you've got the wrong idea entirely."

In police court this morning George appeared on a charge of operating an automobile without a license, and also a violation of the city ordinance, for George had also left his car standing on Central street for a much longer time than is permissible.

Judge Fisher opined that Officer Bassett was right, and after finding Bassett guilty on both complaints ordered a fine of $10 on the charge of operating without a license. The other case was placed on file.

Other Offenders

A free-for-all fight on the North common early last evening, in which one of the quartet engaged emerged with a badly damaged head, resulted in the appearance of four men this morning before the court. Three of them, George Dalenas, Stephano Stephanopoulos and Mike Raymond were charged with disturbing the peace, and the fourth member of the party was arraigned on an assault and battery charge. All four cases were continued until June 7. The men were brought in by Patrolmen P. and J. Noonan, and although they made some objections to accompanying the officers, finally came along in good order.

THE ROGERS HALL SCHOOL GRADUATION

One of the most enjoyable incidents of the commencement exercises at Rogers Hall school yesterday was the awarding of scholastic and other prizes to members of the graduating class by Miss Olive Parson, principal. The Underhill honors, given for good work, good scholarship and special excellence in academic work were won as follows:

First, Miss Anne Robertson of Paducah, Ky.; second, for excellence in college preparatory work, Miss Margaret W. Hussey of Lowell; third, for high scholarship, good influence and initiative, Miss Ruth W. Shafer of Kingston, N. Y. Miss Shafer also won the award as the girl who has done most to promote good government and loyalty to ideals. The athletic prize was won by Miss Helen Lambden of New Rochelle, N. Y., and the award for the best work in connection with the publication of the school paper, "Splinters," was given to Miss Isabel Carpenter of Fall River.

The class of 24 graduates came from widely separated states, as far south as Florida and as far west as Colorado. The list follows:

ACADEMIC COURSE

The monument in question is generally conceded by the cemetery authorities to be the most stately and beautiful in the cemetery and one of the most beautiful in the entire city. It aspires to a height of some 30 feet and its base is nine or ten feet square. From a solid base it mounts in a column several feet, which is surmounted by a cupola enclosing a statue of the Blessed Virgin. The cupola is surrounded by four ornate pinnacles rising like miniature spires to several feet in height. It was on this part of the monument that the damage was done. One of the corner pinnacles was detached from its base and broken. The cost of replacing it is estimated at between $200 and $250.

Dennis J. Meagher, superintendent of the cemetery, first discovered the damage early Sunday morning when he was making his rounds. The grave is located in that part of the cemetery directly opposite Lundberg street and is no more than 20 yards from Gorman street. The monument towers above these surrounding it and is easily conspicuous to passersby. Mr. Meagher found the broken spire lying on the grave lot about a foot and a half from one of the base corners. Just beyond on the warbling surrounding the lot were several blood stains. The base of the monument itself was nicked in several places where the falling pinnacles had struck it.

Mr. Meagher immediately notified Mr. Murphy of what had happened. Yesterday Mr. Murphy in company with Monsignor William O'Brien, P.R., pastor of St. Patrick's church, visited the grave and it was then decided to put the matter into the hands of the police.

Supt. Meagher's theory of what happened is that some of the young men or boys who have been paying nightly visits to the cemetery attempted to climb to the top of the monument.

This is borne out by footprints on the rear of the structure. On reaching the cupola the climber evidently grabbed one of the pinnacles for support, thinking that it would bear his weight. This it failed to do and both pinnacle and climber fell to the ground. The pinnacle struck the base of the monument and was diverted to the ground, a short distance away, while the person falling struck either his head or face on the curbing surrounding the grave. He evidently lay there unconscious for some time, as there are several stains resulting from streams of blood running down the curbing.

Supt. Meagher stated today that the only way to prevent the recurrence of such an unfortunate happening would be to have police protection in the cemetery. Recently, he said, it has been impossible to keep mischief-makers out of the cemetery owing to the fact that the gates have to be left open in the evening on account of city employees constructing a sewer in Court street in the rear of the burying ground. The rules of the cemetery provide that the gates shall be closed at 5 p. m. and nobody allowed to enter after that time. This rule has had to be broken to allow city wagons to get in and out of the grounds, and the

He says that he has been on guard every night for the past week or so with the exception of Saturday and has been kept busy chasing young men from the grounds. During the day there is no disturbance as there is always somebody around. There has been no damage to monuments previously but the flowers left on some of the graves have been taken away. He feels that the police department is not paying sufficient attention to the cemetery and that an officer should be detailed for the present, at any rate, to police it at night.

Up to this noon the police department had made no arrests in the case. It is understood that a general dragnet for those who have been visiting the cemetery on unlawful purposes has been set out.

The monument was erected in 1888, a year after the death of Mr. Murphy's wife, Alice E. Murphy. Thus it has been in place for 31 years without being damaged until Saturday evening's unfortunate occurrence. Its cost is estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000 and is a most artistic piece of work. Besides Mr. Murphy's wife, his daughter, Daniel J. Murphy, Jr., and his daughter, Esther Murphy, are also buried in the same lot.

MARINES LAND IN COSTA RICA

SAN SALVADOR, June 4.—Americans have been landed at Punta Arenas and Port Limon, Costa Rica, because of the revolution against the government headed by Gen. Tinoco, according to despatches printed in newspapers here.

The revolution in Costa Rica has been in progress two months. Forces recruited from political exiles formed bands along the Nicaraguan frontier near Lake Nicaragua and advanced southward. Punta Arenas is on the Pacific coast of Costa Rica and is the Pacific terminus of the railroad extending across Costa Rica to Port Limon, which is the most important harbor on the Atlantic side.

Report Not Confirmed

WASHINGTON, June 4.—No information regarding the reported landing of American forces in Costa Rica had reached either the navy or state department today and Secretary Daniels said he doubted any landing had been made. If any men were sent ashore, they were sailors, as the only marine detachment in the vicinity is the 1st Marine Battalion, which is at the station guard in Nicaragua and officials said it could not be moved without specific authority from Washington.

POLICE ORDERED TO BE ON THE ALERT

Patrolmen covering routes in Lowell on which the homes of high court officials and others charged with judicial authority are located were instructed under special orders from Chief of Police Redmond Welch at an early hour this morning to maintain special watch over these homes.

This order results from the news which was flashed across the wires throughout the country yesterday that attempts had been made on the homes of judges in several cities in the United States.

After reading of the outrages committed by radicals in these cities the chief lost no time in issuing his instructions to the force, and every patrolman on duty today in the territory represented in the jurisdiction of local judges and other high court officials was cognizant of the order to use extra care and be on the alert for possible trouble.

Skulkers and suspiciously acting persons in all sections of Lowell will be watched, particularly during the night hours, by all members of the "finest," and an order has been issued to arrest all persons on the public streets of the city who are unable to give a good reason for their presence.

In speaking to The Sun in regard to the new mandate issued this morning, the superintendent said:

"In my judgment it is best to take these precautions in view of what has occurred in Boston, Lawrence, Philadelphia and many other cities which have been subjected to the outrages and plots of the radical element which seems to have gained a footing in many parts of the country.

"Personally I do not look for any of this kind of business in Lowell. We have always had a law-abiding and patriotic community, and the labor element has always played fair and square and proved themselves 100 per cent. American.

"I request every patriotic citizen of this community who has reasons for suspecting that any man or group of men in the city are planning anything which might be injurious to the community to report their suspicions to me immediately, and they can feel assured that the matter will be sifted to the bottom, no matter who is involved."

COUNTER OFFENSIVE BY BOLSHEVIKI REPORTED

LONDON, June 4.—A Russian wireless message received here today claims that the Bolsheviki have successfully undertaken a counter offensive against the Estonians and the north Russian troops advancing along the Gatchina railway.

RIOTS FORCE PLANT TO CLOSE

TOLEDO, Ohio, June 4.—Operations at the Willys-Overland Automobile Co. were at a standstill today as a result of the rioting last night in which two persons were shot to death and 17 were injured. The plant opened a week ago Monday after two weeks of idleness. Clarence A. Earl, vice president and general manager of the company, authorized the announcement that no attempt would be made to operate the plant, which has been affected by labor disturbances involving 13,000 employees, pending word from Governor Cox regarding an appeal from Mayor Schreiber for troops to handle the situation.

Ex-Soldiers Answer Riot Call

The dead men, it was said, were not involved in the labor disputes and were never employed at the Overland plant. They were in the crowd which congregated about a fire station when discharged soldiers guarding the plant arrived in response to a riot call.

Feeling Running High

Feeling in the neighborhood where the deaths occurred is running high. This is a settlement of Poles, the nationality which suffered most seriously during the rioting, and the police were apprehensive of further outbreaks today aimed at the former soldiers doing emergency police duty. The emergency policemen are armed with automatic pistols and rifles. They still wear the uniform of the army.

Mayor Appeals For Troops

Mayor Schreiber had received no word from Governor Cox concerning his plea for troops, and, fearing that an attempt might be made to harm him, spent the night in a hotel. Instead of at his home. The house adjoining the mayor's was stoned and its windows smashed last night by sympathizers of the idle automobile workers who apparently mistook the residence for the mayor's.

Pitched Battle at Gates

The labor situation at the automobile plant, which has been smoldering for four weeks blazed into a pitched battle at the gates of the factory last night as the day force was leaving. A crowd of 5000 idle workers attacked the loyal employees with bricks, stones, clubs and other missiles.

Fire 100 Shots at Rioters

The emergency police charged them, firing more than a hundred shots over the heads of the rioters. Eleven persons were injured in this clash, two probably fatally.

Threatened a Soldier

After this disturbance had been quelled one of the discharged soldier guards, with a girl companion, was seen in the Polish neighborhood near the automobile plant. He was carrying side arms and wearing his uniform. A crowd gathered about him, hooted and threatened him and he took refuge in a fire engine house.

Fire Volley Over Rioters' Heads

A summons for help was sent to the commanding officer of the emergency police force and two automobile trucks filled with men in uniform responded. These men formed a half circle about the fire station and fired a volley over the heads of the crowd. When this failed to disperse the assemblage, the order was given to shoot low, and this firing killed two men and wounded six.

COPIES OF PEACE TREATY REACH WASHINGTON

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Copies of the peace treaty have reached Washington by courier, supplementing the cables received at the state department several weeks ago. Copies have been supplied to the Japanese embassy, which has forwarded them to Tokyo, and it is assumed that the text has been received by other embassies here.

State department officials said today that in addition to the cables received at the department, the financial and reparations sections had been supplied to the alien property custodian and other government bureaus some time ago for their information and guidance.

Hunt Plotters in All Parts of Country Believe Bomb Plot Hatched in Chicago---Explosion Today

WASHINGTON, June 4.—Although virtually every agent and operative of the department of justice and the police in eight cities have been working on clues which it was hoped would lead to the apprehension of the plotters, who Monday night placed high explosive bombs in eight cities, so far as is known in Washington, no important arrests have been made.

More than 60 suspects have been taken into custody in various parts of the country, but no information has been received here that would indicate the capture of the actual plotters.

Department of justice officials today seemed hopeful that their efforts eventually would bring results. Not since the early days of the war when the efforts of the department were centered on spies and dangerous enemy aliens, has there been such a man hunt.

ENTIRE PLOT MAY HAVE BEEN PLANNED AT CHICAGO—MYST- ERIOUS EXPLOSION

CHICAGO, June 4.—Federal agents today searched every known rendezvous for radicals in Chicago for clues which may lead to the arrest of persons responsible for the nation-wide bomb outrage.

Evidence showing that some of the radical literature used by the conspirators apparently had been printed in Chicago led officials to believe that the entire plot may have been planned in this city.

Printers Arrested

Proprietors of 12 radical printing shops were taken into custody and questioned by federal agents. One of the printers confessed that a Russian, whose name he does not know, but whom he can identify came to his shop recently and gave the order for the radical circulars found in connection with the wholesale murder program. The suspect also told of other literature of the same character having been turned out by other shops. Later the printers were released but will be closely watched.

Federal agents were kept busy all day questioning suspects taken in eight raids on headquarters of radical groups.

Mysterious Explosion Today

A mysterious explosion in a North Side street early today wrecked a large automobile. Three sticks of dynamite and 50 feet of fuse were found in a vacant lot several feet from the car. The police declared that the license tag on the car had been issued to Cornelius T. Shea, formerly president of the Chicago Teamsters' union and prominent in organized labor circles 10 years ago. Search was started for him.

Several raids were made on halls on the west and south sides reported to be places for radical gatherings. In one raid explosives were found. A mass of anarchistic pamphlets was gathered in several places.

Admits Being Anarchist

From Daniel Cozlin, arrested several days ago, it was said that a partial confession had been obtained indicating connection of Chicago radicals with others in the east in a bomb plot of wide ramifications. Cozlin, said to be an Italian, speaks seven languages and is a bookkeeper. According to the police, he admits having been an anarchist for four years, coming here from New York and during his leisure hours aiding in the propaganda work of the extremists with whom he is affiliated.

NEW BUREAU TO CRUSH ANTI-GOV- ERNMENT PLOTS IN CHARGE OF CHIEF PLANNING

NEWS OF THE DAY IN POLICE COURT

If you worked hard in the shop all week, came home Saturday noon and turned over your pay envelope to the head of the house without a murmur, then went out in the garden and did your bit under a blazing New England sun until long after supper time, it is barely possible that you might expect a little rest on the coming Sabbath, don't you think?

And if you were a young man still in your teens, as is Manuel Athanasia, wouldn't you think that the "father" was going a bit too far if he hated you before the police court on a charge of being a stubborn child because you couldn't see into getting up bright and early that same Sunday morning and hiking out in the garden for the day.

Well, anyway, Manuel told Judge Fisher this morning that he didn't think it was fair. Judge Fisher thought it wasn't fair too. And so he announced after hearing the story of the Athanasias, senior and junior, that Manuel was not guilty of the charge his father preferred against him, and ordered him discharged forthwith. He suggested that Mr. Athanasia talk things over with his young son and age if something could not be done so that Manuel might get at least a little time for rest and boyish recreation occasionally.

The next number on the police court menu this morning was the case of Cecil Walker. Cecil is a film flamm artist who has made his home in the City of Spindles for some time, but yesterday he fell down hard when he bumped Paul Brumelle, son of the local druggist on East Merrimack street, out of a nice new ten dollar note.

He got the ten, but he shortly after Continued to Last Page

GERMANS WANT U. S. ALLIANCE

BERLIN, Tuesday, June 4.—(By the Associated Press)—There seems to be a widespread demand on the part of Germans that efforts be made to induce America to enter into a sort of limited alliance with Germany to take a protectorate over this country, giving Germany financial aid and protection and taking in return the lion's share of the profits of the country's industrial activities. This sentiment, which first made its appearance last December, appears to have become stronger very recently.

Privy Councillor Bergmann, formerly a partner in the German Edison companies, and one of the largest electrical magnates here, suggests a German-American partnership, with America the senior and controlling partner.

BOLSHEVIC PROPAGANDA DISTRIBUTED HERE

The Lowell police department today had its attention called to the fact that the headquarters of the Bolsheviki strike movement which started in western Canada and has now spread to middle Canada, had sent a large consignment of copies of a Bolsheviki propaganda publication called "The Soviet."

The police department received information that friends of this movement either residents of Lowell or coming here for the purpose, had adopted the unusual and despicable method of getting hold of little children of foreign parents and giving them small sums of money to pass out copies of this publication among men in working clothes evenings and when no police officer was to be seen.

Supt. Welch examined the copy of "The Soviet" turned over to him today, with interest. He said he already had a large collection of anarchistic literature, papers, magazines and pamphlets he had gathered up in Lowell, procured in Boston, and had given him by Lawrence officers, but had no acquaintance with "The Soviet" until he saw it today.

A Sun man was allowed to examine the publication. Most of the space is devoted to a discussion in the form of a dramatic dialogue supposed to take place at the peace table between the peace delegates, including President Wilson. Speeches are put into their mouths so that altogether the purport is to belittle the conference and participants. It is altogether violently anti-government and inflammatory. The rest of the four page paper is devoted to an exhortation for the reader of the paper to form a club, take up subscriptions and forward them to a certain place so as to forward the Bolsheviki movement in the United States. There is a tirade on an alleged labor trouble in Italy supposed to have been taken from the Alhambra, Can. Journal, an article called "Wretched Problems of Alberta," "Annihilation of the Great Man," and "Paris Workers Bear Flag of Jaures Day." This latter article purports to have been taken from the foreign news service of the Chicago Tribune, same paper that is being sued for libel by Henry Ford. The paper is published at Edmonton, Alberta, and bears no name. Contributors are to send communication and, more importantly, funds, to a certain lock box number at Edmonton postoffice.

Asked if the police department could stop distribution of this and similar publication, Mr. Welch said he did not believe existing law backed the police up, if they did start a campaign against such propaganda. He said he did not believe a municipal ordinance could be framed to give the police the authority he desired and he did not think existing Massachusetts law did it or that Massachusetts could pass a law that would deal with it.

"The national government's legislative department must deal with this great evil," declared Supt. Welch to The Sun, "for it must be remembered these papers are often delivered through the mail and are allowed to be transported in mail cars and handled by postal service men. This should be stopped. We know this is highly dangerous and inflammatory literature and we are more sorry than anyone else to realize that no present law backs us up if we start prosecution of all persons connected with distributing such papers as this Soviet which breathes Bolshevism and all that Bolshevism stands for in every word printed in it."

MATHEWS HONOR THEIR HEROES

Happy Affair in M.T.I. Rooms Last Evening—Silent Prayer For Those Departed

Members of the Mathew Temperance Institute, assisted by a number of invited guests, gave their returning soldiers and sailors a cordially warm reception last evening in the institution's parlors that easily outdistanced any of the innumerable ovations that the uniformed "Mats" have been receiving on land and sea, in this country and Europe, for the past two years or so.

The testimonial to the returning heroes was "warm" in every sense of the word but, despite the intense physical heat, the evening was one of positive pleasure not only for the gallant Lockharts that found a buoy of fair ones awaiting them as they once more tread their way through the familiar scenes of the organization's quarters, but also for the other members and their evening's guests.

As their quota of nation-wide sacrifice, the Mathews gave up no less than 50 members to serve in varied branches of the national service when the exciting days of 1917 called for modern Galahads. Two of these, Frank Kelley and Francis McOsker, made the supreme sacrifice. All the rest, with the exception of half a dozen or so, were back in vibrant spirits and the best of health to enjoy last evening's happy affair. Some of them were still in uniform—just recently returned from Europe and its theatre of strife—while most had shed their military and naval attire for the customary civilian outfit. But the latter did not "get away" with their disguise. They were immediately picked out and made to realize that they were the "high lights" of the evening.

The evening's program included a most appetizing turkey supper, capably served by Caterer Martin Liden, a program of speechmaking and music and then general dancing from 9.30 until the early hours of the morning.

The hall was patriotically and tastefully decorated for the affair under the direction of a committee headed by Boss Decorator Bernard Rourke. Streamers of the national colors and others of artificial floral effect dangled from all sides of the hall to a central nucleus in the form of a chandelier, also of the national colors, extending over the heads of the diners. Lighted candles afforded illumination and the walls of the hall were banked in solid banks of red, white and blue, serving as a background for the pictures of Father Mathew, founder of the organization; the two members of the organization who gave up their lives in the recent war, and others prominent in the institute's history. Broderick's orchestra was cloistered in one of the cool corners of the hall.

P. FRANK REILLY
Chairman

It was 7.30 when the musicians struck up a ziplful march and a hundred couples marched to their seats at the long tables. The costumes of the young women, broken at intervals by a uniform and more frequently by the sterner attire of the civilian members, provided a most pleasing entourage for the scene as a whole.

Following the supper, President P. Frank Reilly called to order and briefly told of the purpose of the gathering—to tender a reception and testimonial to the half-hundred members who played their part in the world conflict. He then introduced John W. Sharkey as toastmaster of the evening. Previously the assembly had sung the national anthem, and Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D., spiritual director, offered grace.

Mr. Sharkey expressed the pleasure of the members of the organization in being able to welcome home so many fighting soldiers and sailors who gained many of their early lessons of patriotism in the ranks of Mathewdom. He told of the gloomy days of 1917 when the heroes left the ranks of the organization, one by one, to undertake the big tasks before them and how the remembrance of those sad days accentuated the joy of the present occasion.

Thomas F. Kelley, one of the returning soldiers, sang several solos and was given a big hand. The toastmaster then introduced Rev. Dr. Keleher, for years a "standby" of the organization.

Rev. Daniel J. Keleher

Rev. Dr. Keleher spoke in part as follows:

"We all remember the gloomy days when our country was entering the war that your toastmaster has just referred to. They were gloomy days because we all knew what tremendous sacrifices we as a people were about to be called upon to make and we knew that some of those who were going away would never return.

"Those days are gone by. The people of Lowell acted splendidly. The people of St. Peter's parish acted splendidly; we sent 525 of our young men into the service and the other parishes did equally as well. The boys and girls of the Mathews acted splendidly—the girls because they let the boys go.

"Not a day passed since the beginning of the war that I did not ask God to look over the boys of St. Peter's and all our boys who went out to war. It is really wonderful how many have returned and we should thank God for this.

"You have two gold stars on your service flag. We must think of those who will not come back, even in the midst of this jollification. I hope this society will continue to flourish for many years to come and that the memories of these boys will be an inspiration to future members."

A Silent Prayer

Rev. Dr. Keleher then asked that all present stand and offer a silent prayer for the two members who gave up their lives in the service. The scene was a most impressive one as the young people in the midst of joyful surroundings stood with bowed heads out of reverence to their departed heroes.

Mrs. Mary Dillon Doherty scored a big hit with several snappy songs and J. Warren Kane, another feted hero, "went big" in a selected number.

Color Sergt. Walter T. Powers, a former member of Co. C of the old Sixth regiment was called upon and he responded gracefully and appreciatively for the soldiers and sailors. In addition he gave a brief but interesting resume of his experiences in the national service.

Miss Alice Murningham, deputy and "peppery" as one could wish, was next called upon and she sent two "Frenchy" numbers across the plate with all the zest of a Marie of France.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson

The next speaker was Mayor Perry D. Thompson, always a welcome visitor at the Mathew rooms. His Honor paid a tribute to the previous speaker, Sergt. Powers, and brought out a fact which the latter had modestly omitted. The mayor said that Sergt. Powers was one of three sons to enter the service. On the morning he went away Mayor Thompson had occasion to visit Mrs. Powers and asked her if she were not sorry to see all her boys go. She replied that she felt that that was her part and she was glad to do it. The mayor then assured those present that they might always call upon him because he had found during his term of office that he could always call upon the Mathews. He congratulated them on the excellent part they had played in the world war.

Edward F. Slattery

The final speaker was Probation Officer Edward F. Slattery, one of the oldest members of the organization, who expressed a welcome to the returned heroes on behalf of the "old guard" and urged the younger members to continue the good work of the institute.

Those seated at the head table at the banquet included Mayor Perry D. Thompson, Rev. Daniel J. Keleher, Ph.D., President P. Frank Reilly, John W. Sharkey, Edward F. Slattery, Sergt. W. Sharkey, William H. Carey, Chief Petty Officer William H. Carey, John J. Townsend, Joseph McOsker, Miss Teresa Welch and Miss Exilda Ouellette.

A Clear Head is needed to cope with the complex conditions of modern life. A steady brain and a far-seeing eye are the first things needed to progress. Many lag behind in the race because of their physical condition. Male or female, you cannot do your work properly if your digestive organs are in bad condition or your system run down. Your food will not assimilate and your blood does not nourish.

A Healthy Body is the result of sound digestion and active liver. As soon as the digestive organs get out of order the general health declines. The joy of living vanishes, and all seems dark. It is a simple matter to keep the liver and stomach in good condition. Why suffer when a resort to Beecham's Pills will relieve you and a sensible use of them will avoid trouble? Thousands have learned that they can trust them. Why not start at once? Clear the head, stimulate the mind, by toning your digestive system.

NOT MUCH DOPE SOLD IN LOWELL THESE DAYS

It is safe to say that the reign of the dope fiend in Lowell terminated several years ago, at least the city is practically free of such persons now. The drug stores are the barometers of their influx and ebb and as far as can be learned persons addicted to the use of drugs and dope make but few attempts to secure the "stuff".

The most pertinent proof that the drug habit has but few devotees in Lowell was given this morning by a prominent druggist, who told us that in 1904 before the first narcotic law went into effect he bought at wholesale for his Lowell store 50 ounces of morphine, while last year, 1918, he purchased but one-eighth of an ounce. Four hundred times as much 15 years ago.

Federal and state laws governing the sale of narcotics have become so stringent as to almost defy sham on the part of the desired user. Lowell druggists rarely ever get a call for a narcotic which is not accompanied by a doctor's prescription, and if such a call does come it is peremptorily refused.

Only through the medium of a doctor's prescription does the law allow narcotics to be sold by druggists and this prescription is filled out in such a manner as to form a complete and checking record. The name of the patient for whom the narcotic is prescribed, the patient's age, his address, the prescription itself, the doctor's full name and registration number must all be on the prescription and the original prescription must be signed by the person receiving it. This last compulsory act, in the mind of the druggist, is the only flaw in the law, as it allows a minor to get the prescription in instances when the patient is unable to call for it. In addition to this a druggist's label must go on the bottle or package and this carries the following information: Name of firm and registration number and the name, age, etc., of the patient.

The list of narcotics contains the following names: Opium, codeine, morphine and heroin, all listed as such under the federal law, and cannabis indica and cannabis sativa listed under the state law. There are also the derivatives such as eucaine, novocaine, holocaine and aesthetine.

There are, however, certain exemptions to the law which allow sale over the counter without the accompanying doctor's prescription. These exemptions come in the sale of cough and diarrhoea medicines and paregoric and at the time of sale just a record is kept containing the name of the purchaser, address, the article delivered and the amount of narcotic contained therein. The amounts exempted are: Opium, two grains per ounce; morphine, 1/4 grain per ounce; codeine, one grain per ounce and heroin, 1/4 grain per ounce. This is a brand new law which went into effect May 1 of this year and the government is supposed to furnish blanks for the purpose of recording the sales, but as yet none has been received locally.

It is almost as hard for the druggist to obtain a narcotic from a wholesaler as it is for a customer to get it from the retail man, or at least, it entails just about as much red tape. The druggist must obtain it by presenting filled out printed forms from the U. S. internal revenue office and physicians must make their purchases from wholesalers by similar methods. Here's another pretty good reason why narcotics are not being purchased in the same large amounts as formerly: Morphine at wholesale now costs $16.80 an ounce, while along about 1904, 1905 and 1906 it was only $2.50 an ounce.

A druggist cannot repeatedly sell an exempted article to the same person, for it soon becomes evident that the purchaser is getting it solely for the amount of dope it contains. For instance, a two ounce bottle of paregoric contains 1.9 grains of opium per ounce and if a person buys it continuously he is obtaining considerable narcotic. Most drug stores keep all their narcotics in one place and in many cases under lock and key.

LOWELL BOY DROWNED IN PISCATAQUOG RIVER

Walter J. Gookin, son of John J. and Elizabeth (Farrington) Gookin, of 15 Aberdeen street, this city, aged 17 years, a student at St. Anselm's college in Manchester, N. H., was drowned while bathing in the Piscataquog river yesterday. Deceased was a third-year student at the college high school and the news of his untimely death will be received with grief by his many Lowell friends. He leaves to mourn his loss besides his parents, two brothers, John F. and Paul A., and a sister, Miss Mary R. Gookin. The body was removed to the home of the parents by Undertakers J. F. O'Donnell & Sons.

Mr. John J. Gookin, father of the boy who was drowned, is employed by the Middlesex Machine Co. in Paige st.

LOWELL COMMERCIAL COLLEGE WINS

At the annual convention of the New England Business College association held at Barre, Mass., May 30, Principal Earle R. Kimball, of the Lowell Commercial college was presented a bronze trophy which the students had won for the school in the three typewriting contests conducted by the association during the spring.

The young ladies who won the trophies for the school in competition with 24 other schools throughout New England were: Eva M. Peltier and Marie R. Dinn, of Lowell; J. Agnes Hayes and Dorothy M. Booth of Billerica; Caroline N. Felli and Gladys Burns of Milford, N. H., and Hazel Soule of Pepperell, Mass.

The conditions of the contest required each school to submit six writers in each contest and the trophy was awarded to the school which contained the highest average in the three contests. The international rules governed the contest, a penalty of 10 words being deducted for each error. One-half of the contestants were novices, or beginners of this year, and one-half were pupils who had studied typewriting previous to this school year.

words net perfect per minute. Many of the individual records were in excess of this; Miss Peltier writing 101.7 words net perfect per minute in the final contest in Class A for experienced writers, and Miss Marjorie Armstrong writing 80.3 words net perfect per minute in Class B, or the novice class. Both of these young ladies were awarded gold medals for the fastest individual speeds in their respective classes.

Second place in the contest was won by the Stone Business college of New Haven, Conn., with a net average of 57.2 words per minute.

J. N. Kimball, the stenographic expert of New York, and who has charge of the international contests and numerous city and state contests from coast to coast remarked when presenting the trophy to Earle R. Kimball on the high standard of typewriting in New England schools as compared with those in any other part of the country, particularly New York. He congratulated the Lowell school especially because the trophy was won on the work of several pupils rather than on the individual ability of any single one.

And little Dorothy, aged 11 months, was certainly a big little baby. She was the heaviest baby weighed yesterday. Dorothy is only 11 months old and weighs exactly 36 1/2 pounds. This is overweight—28 3/4 pounds being normal weight for a child the age of Dorothy. But she was quite the healthiest and dearest little lot we have seen in a long time. Why not bring in your baby and see if it is normal as to weight and height? Incidentally, your baby will thus have a chance to win the silver loving cup to be given the prize baby.

BOARD OF TRADE ANNUAL MEETING

John M. O'Donoghue Is Elected President To Succeed James C. Reilly

Members Hear Reports on the Activities of the Past Year

The members of the board of trade at the annual meeting held last evening at the rooms of the organization, selected John M. O'Donoghue to be president. He succeeds James C. Reilly. The other officers elected were: first vice president, George C. Fairburn; second vice president, George C. Fairburn; treasurer, George F. Wagner; auditor, Herbert J. Ball; clerk, Arthur L. Eno and directors to be as follows: Frank J. Campbell, Daniel F. Carroll, Paul B. Chandler, Fred J. Crowley, Frederick A. Plummer, Vasileos Glavis, Albert J. Gilmore, Dr. Arthur J. Gagnon, George H. Hart, Fred F. Hayward, John A. Hunnewell, John C. Leggat, John J. Mahoney, John H. Murphy, James P. Owens, Allan D. Parker, Stanley E. Qua, Hon. John J. Rogers, George H. Runels, Arthur T. Sanford, Dr. Charles E. Simpson, Jude C. Wadleigh, Fred C. Weld, John K. Whitliff, David Ziskind. The former presidents are also ex-officio members of the board of directors. These are Jesse H. Shepard, Henry A. Smith, Geo. M. Harrigan, Harvey B. Greene, Hon. Walter S. Watson, Robert F. Marden and James C. Reilly.

Four Narrowly Escaped in Portland Fire

PORTLAND, Me., June 4.—Four persons narrowly escaped death in a fire of unknown origin which burned the entire plant of the Cash Fuel Co., on Washington avenue, near Tukey's bridge today. The loss was estimated at $200,000, on which there is an insurance of $40,000. Eight horses were burned.

Samuel E. Marston, the watchman, who was off duty, was rescued from his apartment over the office. His sister, Mrs. Sadie Marston, was burned about the arms and back in leaving the building with her sons, John and Harold. John Marston was burned about the arms. Frank Boothby, a fireman, who attempted to rescue the horses, was slightly burned.

Snyder Elected Los Angeles Mayor

LOS ANGELES, Cal., June 4.—Former Mayor Meredith P. Snyder was elected mayor by a plurality of more than 20,000 over Frederick T. Woodman, present mayor, according to returns compiled from two-thirds of the vote in yesterday's municipal election.

Mayor Woodman was recently acquitted of a charge of receiving money to protect vice.

LOWELL WOMAN HARDLY ABLE TO MOVE WITH RHEUMATISM

Swollen Painful Joints Rapidly Disappeared by Use of New Remedy Weldona

"I want to say a few words for others who may be suffering as I was," said Mrs. V. Geromini of 90 Lincoln St., Lowell:

Mrs. Geromini, Showing Wonderful Health After Taking Weldona.

"Last year I was forced to go to bed because of rheumatism, my limbs were swollen and extremely painful, my hands, arms and back kept me in agony all the time. It was impossible to get to sleep because of the pain and suffering and at times I had to sit in a chair, hardly able to move. I saw Weldona advertised and as it was helping so many who suffered as I did, I decided to give it a trial. I had very little confidence that Weldona would help me as I had tried doctor after doctor, as well as many different remedies advertised and recommended, but always to be disappointed. In fact many times the medicine disturbed my stomach. After taking Weldona a week I could see it was helping me, my stomach got better, the pain and swelling gradually left me and now I am able to be up and around almost as well as ever I was."

Every sufferer who neglects to try Weldona is doing himself an injury and suffering needlessly. Weldona does not contain alcohol, opiates or habit forming drugs, but is composed of herbs, roots and other medicinal ingredients which tend to drive rheumatism from the blood. It was stated that the Weldona man would continue to meet the public at Dows, the druggists, to explain more about Weldona and to give out the free book "Germs of Rheumatism."

from restraint is one of its elements of strength, as it is thus enabled to fill in many unanticipated gaps in our community organization and do many a public service that otherwise would remain undone, while performing its primary function of encouraging and co-ordinating our commercial activities. It is the function of the board to make the needs of business men known to each other; to make the needs of the community known to the men of business and vice versa, and also to bring to the attention of our city, state and national governments the deliberate judgments of our men of affairs on the many novel and important problems of our civil life that arise throughout the year. In this sense it is the liaison agency of the city, keeping as it does the different interests of the community in touch with each other and thus promoting among them the most effective co-operation.

Under the new by-laws now adopted the administration of the board's affairs will take somewhat new form. The new administration, as it lies in my mind, will function chiefly through a few important standing committees

JOHN M. O'DONOGHUE.

Other temporary committees will be appointed from time to time to accomplish specific missions. The new executive committee will contain five members where it previously contained but three others than the president and secretary. Each of these five will act as chairman of one of the standing committees. Upon the members of the executive committee will fall most of the work which the president will be responsible for the success of the special department assigned to his committee.

The incoming administration is to follow what has been a particularly brilliant period in the board's history. For several administrations the board has been extremely active and successful and has held the high esteem and confidence of the entire community, more especially those of the community who were best informed as to the details of the board's accomplishments. It may be that improvement still can be made in the matter of keeping the members of the board and the community at large in more intimate touch with the things that are planned; the things that have been accomplished by the board. An effort will be made in this direction and if this can be done and if at the same time the board's already high standard of accomplishment can be maintained and if the issues of the hour can be squarely met as they arise and fairly and wisely dealt with, as they have been dealt with in the past, I know that I can count upon the continued support of the rank and file of the board and probably justify, in some small measure, that confidence which the members of the board, by their election, have so generously expressed.

Secretary John J. O'Rourke, completing his first year as secretary, presented a report in detail covering the efforts of the board of trade during the past year. He told of the hard efforts made to have the United States government start a housing program here, finally crowned with success, only to have the armistice signing stop work already started and told of means undertaken by the board during the time the influenza was claiming hundreds of victims in this city. Other propositions discussed by him upon which definite action has been taken by the board of trade were, using the space about the police station as a municipal parking place for motor cars, plans following out the "city beautiful" idea, railway fares, improving shipping facilities, war activities of the board, Americanization, the Memorial Auditorium, build-your-own-home campaign and getting new industries for Lowell.

PRODUCTION, ADVERTISING, PROSPERITY

The United States Department of Labor says: "Let's continue production and insure prosperity."

Well spoken and well advised. But the thing we produce must be advertised. The deaf and dumb man, poor fellow, doesn't get much attention until somebody runs over him. The result of production must be advertised for the reason that prosperity is only attained because the thing produced is skillfully advertised.

Whether you like it or not, Mr. Business Man, the public depends on advertisements as its guide to the thing it may buy. This is a safe bet and if you refuse to believe it from us, ask the merchant who is changing his small, antiquated cash register, for a larger one.

With equitable relations obtaining between the worker and the employer, there will be no question as to the quality and the quantity of production in all lines. And there will be no question of a widely distributed prosperity, if the product reaches its market by means of advertising.

In advertising in Lowell, you have to start at the root of efficient and far-reaching method. You are reaching 90 per cent of the homes of Lowell when you contract for space in

POLICE STRIKES

In recent months, there has been considerable talk of strikes among police and firemen. Both crafts have grievances which they have a right to overcome or to have remedied by every practicable means in their power; but we do not believe that either police or firemen should be permitted to strike. But no such mandate can be made without providing some satisfactory method of dealing with demands coming from these departments.

At the present time, the police department is agitating for one day off in eight, which is not an unreasonable demand considering the fact that the 8 hour day is being agitated all over the country and that some crafts are agitating for a 44 hour day. As for the firemen, they will soon come forward with a demand for a double platoon system and that will come eventually, although the city of Lowell at the present time cannot well afford the expense that such a change would bring.

Public safety demands the uninterrupted service of the police and fire departments in every city. If they leave their posts, the public safety is imperiled. For this reason they should have some means of procuring redress of their grievances without resort to strike. There has been a sufficient number of examples in different parts of the country to justify action that would prevent such strikes in the future. Yet, none of the state legislatures or the cities affected have taken any steps to prevent policemen and firemen taking part in labor strikes or going out on strikes in their own behalf. The first step would be to constitute some board of arbitration of the demands of police or firemen, the decisions of which would be binding on both parties.

It must be apparent that a strike of police officers would have a most demoralizing effect upon the rougher element in every community. Where there is even a remote possibility of such strikes, it will be necessary to maintain a reserve force to be called upon; but if these belonged to the union, they would also refuse to work. Hence the necessity of prohibiting such strikes.

AUSTRIAN TREATY

The Austrian treaty, so far as can be judged from the summary of it given out, seems to be more drastic in its provisions than the German treaty. It goes into more minute details of what the future government shall be than does the German document. Parts of it sound much like our Declaration of Independence, assuring the protection of life, liberty and equality before the law to all the peoples under the Austrian government, regardless of race, creed, language or religion. Contrary to the American principle of government, however, the treaty provides that Austrian nationals belonging to racial, religious or linguistic minorities are to have the same protection as other Austrian nationals in regard to schools and other educational establishments; and it further provides that where a considerable proportion of Austrian nationals of other than German speech are residents, facilities are to be given for the instruction of their children in their own language and an equitable share of public funds is to be provided for the purpose.

That policy has long been tabooed in the United States as a danger to the foundations of our government, and it is diametrically opposed to the present policy of urging all to use one language.

The Austrian delegation to the peace congress comes before the representatives of the allies with a spirit of meekness in striking contrast to the attitude of the Germans. They beg that the terms may not be such as they cannot bear and appeal to the humane spirit of the allies for leniency. They are likely to gain more by this method than by adopting a haughty and imperious tone such as exhibited by the chairman of the German delegation.

Austria is robbed of her imperial authority and will hereafter be obliged to conduct her governmental affairs under the principles of justice and equality embodied in the treaty now submitted for her approval.

STAMP OUT ANARCHY

The Reds, the anarchists, the socialists, Bolsheviks or whatever they may be called, have made another attempt to create a reign of terror in this country by having bombs planted to destroy the homes of public men who have been officially or otherwise prominent in opposing the radical revolutionary propaganda.

This demonstration is intended to intimidate certain men whose duty it is to enforce the law. But it will have the opposite effect. The Washington authorities must now set out to grapple in earnest with this monster. Anarchy must be stamped out in this country. The men must be ferreted out and either deported or shot. It is of no use to imprison those who are caught and have those who are still free continue to apply the bomb and the torch. All Russians, except those on official business, should be barred from entering this country. Many of those already here should be deported.

The yellow peril, over which California raises such a howl, is mild compared to that which now threatens this nation under the name of the Bolshevik, which is but another name for unbridled anarchy.

LOCKS AND CANALS POLICY

After long delay, the Locks and Canals company notifies the public service commission that it will repair the bridge on Broadway. The company has done a serious damage to the city of Lowell and inflicted heavy financial loss upon the Bay State Street railway by its refusal to keep the bridge in a safe condition. It is the company's policy never to do anything calling for the expenditure of money that it can avoid by legal chicanery. In this case, there was no excuse whatever for attempting to place the responsibility for the unsafety of the Broadway bridge upon the Bay State Street Railway company. That company is simply using the streets where it has a franchise so to do, and the streets are supposed to be in passable condition. The Locks and Canals company having its system of canals running under our streets, must necessarily have bridges over those canals and it is legally bound to keep these bridges in repair. The case of the Broadway bridge indicates that the company is trying to evade its responsibility and that in the future, it should be promptly compelled to put its bridges in order whenever notified by the city authorities that they are not in safe condition.

SOVIET PROPAGANDA

We are informed that certain publications advocating the soviet form of Bolshevik government, are being distributed in this city by the children of Russian Poles, resident in this city. The little ones are used for this purpose by their seniors who are afraid to do the work themselves. The Polish people of this city should now have some national pride in being citizens of this great republic and of being able to point to their native land set free by the peace congress, after centuries of oppression. They should not allow their children to be used as the agents of any Bolshevik propaganda. Much less should any of the Poles be engaged in any such propaganda. It is well to understand that under present conditions this is very serious business, and that the people engaged in it, if detected, may be severely dealt with by the federal authorities.

SEND YOUR WASTE

The Lowell Guild is an agency for good in this city. It is now engaged in the collection of waste and cobs for whatever waste material in the line of cast off clothing and rubbers that may not be needed in the household. This offers every household a splendid opportunity to get rid of the old trash that accumulates in closets and attics, inviting moths and always a source of trouble because taking up space that is needed for other purposes. Gather the old clothing, old hats and bonnets, old rags and rubbers, and all other forms of household waste, and pack them in bags for the Lowell Guild, whose agents will call for them. It is better to do this than to throw the stuff in the ash barrels or even sell it to ragmen for little or nothing.

MAKING GOOD CITIZENS

The attorneys in charge of the naturalization court in this city have remarked that the applicants for citizenship have shown a marked degree of improvement in preparation over former applicants examined in this city. This is said to be due mainly to the efforts of Supl. Molloy of the school department, who has made a specialty of preparing our foreign residents for assuming the responsibilities of citizenship. Thus it is proved that the citizenship classes are doing a very effective and very useful work.

If this daylight saving law is repealed, we never want to hear any farmer hereafter bemoan his lot or the lack of remuneration for his hard work. City workers exist as the majority in this case, but with Washington now submissive, it is believed the farmers will get the saving daylight law repealed. On this occasion, at any rate, it seems the farmer has bossed the country and its government.

It would seem as if the boosters for St. John's, Newfoundland, as a port of entry, would have to go some to counteract the conditions the climate of the North Atlantic enforces there occasionally. Last week, 1000 soldiers anxious to disembark and be on their way to different places in Newfoundland, were held up three days in the harbor waiting for fog and ice to get out of the way.

The new "Republic of the Rhine" may have pretty nearly everything it wants except that it will not be allowed to maintain the official watch on the Rhine. Interested neighbors will do that.

When we read that the tricky Huns were outwitted by having American army orders relayed over a telephone wire by Indian soldiers talking Choctaw, it again reminds us that this little incident of no inconsiderable importance helped in the long run to "hang the Indian sign" on Fritz.

The Prince of Wales is fortunate to receive a bid to attend the dinner given by the British air ministry to the plucky crew of the NC-1. He will eat in the company of brave men. And by all accounts, Wales himself may feel right at home. They say he is a good deal of a man.

SEEN AND HEARD

Hurry that bathhouse stuff, Mr. Mayor.

First you wear a stiff hat and discard it for the soft boy. Then you try to tip it to the lady and make an awful mess of it because the brim is not stiff and just about the time you get used to grabbing it by the top as it should be grabbed, you don your straw lid—or hay hat—and you keep on grabbing. Terrible!

"Women have thicker ankles, so we find," remarked a sales manager for a firm making a popular line of women's shoes. "It's a consequence of the war, we believe. Women worked more during the war, also walked more. They wore on their feet more. So their ankles thickened."—Brooklyn Enterprise.

The Red Necktie

Don't let your heart speak through your necktie. It is quite the natural thing for young swains and lovers to try to express by flaming neckties the passion that consumes their hearts. But don't oh, ye swains and lovers! You don't realize what a bad effect your flamboyant adornment has upon the woman you love. No man ever won a girl's love by wearing a red necktie. If he won the girl, it was in spite of his necktie. Parents don't often tell their young sons how to go about the delicate problem of wooing. Generally it is because the boys don't confide in their parents, and often it is because the parents would not want to admit the mistakes they themselves made in their youth. And so the same mistakes are repeated generation after generation. The greatest of all these mistakes is the lover's necktie. If a man wants to make himself ridiculous in the eyes of his lady fair, let him play the peacock. Let him blossom out in flower-bedecked neckties, pink shirts and purple socks, and see how courting progresses! The girl of his heart will be repelled by that adornment. To jolly Jimmy along, she will declare the colors are becoming to him. But in her heart of hearts she will make up her mind that no shall be her sole answer when Jimmy slips his arms about her waist and begs her to be his cook "until death do us part." Do you know what the red necktie does to you, Mr. Jimmy? You're so sure that your socks and the marigold in your buttonhole will do your courting for you that you become tongue-tied. You stammer a few words, and then you feel self-conscious. You get a whiff of that scent you put on your hair, and that unnerves you. Maybe, it's only hay rum, after all. The harber fooled you when he told you it came from Paris. You wonder whether she has noticed it, too. And by that time mother has come into the room to feed the canary, and the golden moment has slipped by. Or, if you do have time to kneel down to make your declaration of love, your Sunday shoes begin to squeak and pinch—and that, of all things, is most disconcerting. They all can hear that noise as far out as the barn, you are sure. So you forget all the fine things you memorized on your way over; and unless luck is on your side, you lose your balance and bump your nose on the arm of the beloved's chair. If you take my advice, Mr. Jimmy, you'd better do your courting in your every-day working clothes. You don't have to doll up to win a girl's love. The girl you want to marry must love you, not your dandelion boutonniere and the Parisian cucumber cream you have rubbed into your hands.

Clemens' great in Paris; out! Orlando's great in Rome; But our town banks on You and Me; It's clean-up week at home. Let's tie the work we have to do. Nor think it cause to blush: Our ancient symbols still stand true—The shovel, mop and brush!

Our Congress sits in old D. C., Beneath the nation's dome, But sitting won't serve you and me In clean-up week at home. So up and at him! Smite the foe In hard assaults and sallies. And reel him out, as on we go Through cellars, yards and alleys.

Pooh, Ho! and Feh! smote the Hun Across Atlantic's foam. But we've got something on the run In clean-up week at home. "At-ten-shun! company! fix arms! for!"

Nor ever tire nor yield! A swifter is our goodly sword, A warfare—can our shield!

Then pen may yield us hope, But for the safety of the race, A rampant fur of Rome! BY EDWARD VANCE COOKE (Copyright, 1918, N.E.A.)

MAN ABOUT TOWN

There is one young woman in Lawrence who doesn't like Lowell very well and when she told us about it the other day we, quizzical folk, asked the reason why? "Well," she said, "when people will try to rob you in broad daylight, the town or city in which these people live or operate is a pretty good place to keep away from. I drove my automobile to Lowell this other day and left it standing in Bridge street. I called at a drug store and from where I stood I could see my machine. I noticed two well dressed young men examining it quite closely and, inasmuch as it is a new machine and pretty nifty looking, I thought they were admiring it. My eyes were off the machine only while I was drinking a glass of soda. When I returned to the street one young man stood at the hood of the machine and the other at the rear. The fellow in the rear walked away quickly while the other fellow said something in admiration of the car and walked nonchalantly by me and into a store. I had a new wheel securely strapped and locked on the rear of my machine and when I got home my brother asked me if I had had tire trouble. I said no and asked him why he thought so. Then he called my attention to the wheel on the back of the machine. It was being supported only by the steel fastening. The young man who was standing in the rear of the machine when I came out of the store had had the straps, but did not have time to undo the lock. If I had not put in an appearance they would have taken the wheel and now I have told you why I don't like Lowell." Of course there were things we could have said about Lawrence in rebuttal, as it were, but we didn't want to be put in the position of defending auto tire thieves.

It seems as though some of the papers down Virginia way must have a hazy idea about Lowell or about the entire subject of their geography in general. For instance in connection with the writeup a paper in a Virginia coast city gave Anthony Schwartz, of 165 Grand street, it mentioned that he hailed from "Lowell, Mass., famous for shoes and poets." Very incorrect. We have only five shoemaking plants in Lowell and Lowell does not make any men's shoes at all. We regard shoemaking here as a minor industry. As for poets the Virginia reporter may think our city was named for the poet, Jas. Russell Lowell, which is in correct and for our poetical ability we are characteristically modest and if the Virginia brother thinks we are a tribe of poets up here, far be it from us to spoil his pleasant self delusion.

We all know what a sweltering day yesterday was and how little preparation people had made for such an early advent of century temperatures. Not the least cool spot in the city was city hall, although, of course, the temperature in the various offices was below that of the outside world. The writer had occasion to travel through most of the offices in the municipal building and the one which furnished the most relief was that of the streets and highways department. A large size electric fan had been turned on at full speed here and was stirring up little whirlwinds that were most refreshing. But what ruled me was that after I had stood in front of the fan a few seconds and was beginning to feel normal once more, one of the young lady clerks asked me to "please shut it off because it was giving her a headache." Well, I said to myself, this fan should be placed where it will be appreciated.

BITTER RIVALS CLASH IN BASEBALL

A refreshing breeze traveled across the sun-baked diamond at Spaulding park this afternoon as the Lowell and Lawrence high school baseball teams lined up for the second and last series game of the year. A mass meeting at the local school in the morning had created considerable interest and the biggest crowd of the season was on hand. As usual Lawrence sent a big delegation of rooters, headed by Principal Horne of the down-river school and they offered their team every encouragement.

Lawrence has a fretful score to settle, so they say, for the ninth inning defeat handed them in their own ball-park on May 14, still rankles. Lowell, on the other hand, seemed confident of repeating the dose in ample measure and Coach Donahue's boys worked out fast and pretty in the hot sun. Ordway got the local pitching assignment and although it would be an eleventh hour decision in the case of Birkenhead's playing, it was believed he had sufficiently raised his scholastic attainments to be able once again to play. If he catches, Capt. Reynolds will go back to shortstop and Gus Cahill will play second.

In accordance with the Lowell-Lawrence athletic agreement, a Mr. Ryan from Haverhill, was the umpire, a neutral arbiter being necessary according to the text.

THE STRAND

"The Third Degree," a picturization of Charles Klein's big stage success of the same name, which will be shown for the last time today at The Strand, is easily one of the greatest dramatic film endeavors in the repertoire of picture programs ever given locally. Alice Joyce, who is seen in the stellar role, is most commendable and the supporting cast is high-grade. The story concerns a thrilling expose of old-time police methods of securing confessions from prisoners. An interesting love romance is also injected into the theme.

Mabel Normand, in Goldwyn's latest offering, "The Pest" is another superior brand of picture entertainment. It shows the star in one of her most entertaining roles. The other features are praiseworthy. Robert Carlson, the week's soloist is scoring a big hit. And don't forget that it's as cool as the ocean breeze at this theatre, made so by the perfected ventilation recently installed.

B. F. KITH'S THEATRE

Jolly reigns at the B. F. Keith Theatre, this week, with an all-laughing show presented. Tom Smith and Ralph Stone, whose hilarious on things we all see in the theatre is specially well done, head the list of acts. They are unique, and never fail to create a lot of laughter. A. Robinson, the man whose voice can imitate the sounds of many musical instruments, is quite in a class by himself, while Frank Crumit, with songs and dialect stories, is one of the most original of entertainers. Master Gabriel, the funny midket, recreates himself in "Little Nemo," and the comedy sisters are singers of popular melodies, and characterists. Le Poilu, French band-master, plays cornets and trumpets and balances them the while. The Pedersen Brothers are wonderful acrobats and aerialists.

Women Insulted in Paige Street—License Commission Holds Hearing

"I would not allow my wife to walk up Paige street after dark," was the statement of Lieutenant Patrie at the hearing held by the license commissioners to act on the annual renewal of jitney licenses last evening.

Other members of the commission stated that many complaints had been made by Lowell women that they were insulted by men while passing by the jitney stand on Paige street, and that the drivers were failing consistently to observe the regulations provided for in the city's jitney ordinance.

As a result of the testimony given during the hearing Chairman Charles H. Hanson stated that from now on the jitney regulations will be complied with to the letter or else the licenses of the offenders will be summarily revoked.

The meeting opened at 8 o'clock with the three members of the commission present, Chairman Charles H. Hanson, Joseph M. McGrath and George E. Putnam.

George E. Marchand, commissioner of public property and licenses, said that numerous complaints had been made regarding the jitney drivers who are conducting business on Paige street. The men are not living up to the regulations regarding soliciting business, overcrowding their machines, and the ordinance which provides that only two cars at a time shall be halted on Paige street between Merrimack and John streets seems to have been entirely forgotten, he said.

He also stated that many complaints had been made by women who claimed they were insulted while walking up Paige street, and that there were many women who were actually afraid to walk up the street during the evening. Something should be done to do away with this state of affairs, he declared.

Commissioner Putnam followed Mr. Marchand with a vigorous protest against the alleged insults which local women who pass up Paige street are being subjected to, and also said that he had observed many of the drivers starting off with their machines overcrowded beyond reason.

Inspector James Holland also stated that the conditions on Paige street

should be remedied and that it had become a common sight to see a group of loafers and women hanging around the jitney stand at this point.

Lieut. Patrie testified that Michael Hassan, a driver for the Independent Auto Co., Michael Ansara, proprietor, had left the stand with ten passengers in his car besides himself one night last week, whereas the regulations provide for only 7 passengers in his car. He had also solicited passengers for the trip, the lieutenant said.

Hassan declared that his employer had neglected to tell him anything about the jitney regulations in force, and that as he had only been employed a short time he had been ignorant of the ordinance. Mr. Ansara was called to testify and said that he had told but supposed the man had forgotten.

Officers Sullivan and Swanwick testified that no attention was paid to Hassan's provisions of the ordinance, the regulations by the jitneys, and that remonstrances were laughed at. They testified that on several occasions they had seen a line-up of a dozen cars on that part of the street allowed to the drivers.

The ordinance relative to relieving the congestion on Paige street was then read by the clerk. This ordinance provides that only two cars at a time may stop for the purpose of taking on passengers on Paige street in the following section: From Merrimack street to John street on the southerly side of the street, and from Merrimack to Brookings street on the opposite side.

At the conclusion of the hearing the following special chauffeurs' licenses were granted: Charles A. Kunhardt, 45 Fulton st.; George Blamis, 165 Market st.; Roy L. Gelinas, 12 Butler st.; Lawrence; Louis Patistas, 163 Adams st.; and Harry Pappas, 75 Concord st., Lawrence.

A brief hearing was held on the application of Archie Perron to conduct a lunch cart at 19 O'Connell parkway and, owing to the fact that no remonstrants were present, the license was granted. Perron's counsel said many improvements had been made to comply with the requirements.

The following minor licenses were granted by the commission:

To sell confectionery, etc., on the Lord's day: Mrs. Jennie I. Sullivan, 854 Middlesex st.; Mary F. Bezuke, 127 Hale st.; Laura M. Dayon, 657 Broadway; Fred C. Stoddard, 137 Middlesex st.; Sarah A. EMPLOYEES OF THE HIGHWAYS DEPARTMENT OF BILLERICA

WANT MORE PAY

The employees of the highways department of the town of Billerica appeared before the selectmen at their regular meeting Monday evening and requested that a special town meeting be called for the purpose of taking action on their demand for an increase in wages from $3.25 a day to $4 a day. The matter was taken under advisement. In the course of the meeting the following special police officers were appointed:

Isaac Hopkinson, Chester Wright; Cassius White, James A. Ruth, William E. Livingston, Leslie Messer, John Trainor, Archibald Lloyd and Roger

Harrington. A license to slaughter cattle in accordance with the provisions of the commonwealth was granted to Charles H. Kemp.

The selectmen accepted the legacy of $1000 for a public fountain in memory of Lyman Haynes and Caroline Haynes, former residents of the town.

BILERICA'S WELCOME TO SOLDIERS AND SAILORS TO BE HELD JULY 4 AND 5

The home welcome celebration for the soldiers and sailors of the town of Billerica will be held July 4 and 5, according to reports from the board of selectmen, who are in charge of the plans. Although definite plans have not yet been made, it is stated that on July 4 there will be a parade, followed by exercises at the Centre village, after which the presentation of the medals to the heroes of the war will be made. In the evening there will be a banquet in the town hall. Band concert will also be given at the North and Centre villages. On July 5 a list of sports will be carried out in the afternoon and in the evening a grand ball will be given in the town hall. Every organization of the town is invited to participate in the celebration.

AN ENEMY OF WOMANHOOD

The complexion, digestion and almost the complete personality of woman are dependent upon health. Woman's ill is her great enemy, as they cause bad complexion, dark circles under the eyes, headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, dragging-down pains and the blues, and often totally unfit her for a companion. The great American remedy for such conditions is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which has been restoring three generations of ailing women to health, and may be relied upon with perfect confidence.

HOLD ANNUAL BANQUET

Several hundred members and friends of the Lowell Y.M.C.A. gathered in the association gymnasium last evening for the annual banquet, and the event was indicative of a healthy growth and unbounded enthusiasm in the local work. Two prominent "Y" men from New York delivered interesting addresses, J. M. Clinton, a war worker who saw much service in France, and William H. Ball, nationally known in physical culture work. Mayor Perry D. Thompson also spoke and presented the various individual and team prizes won throughout the year, and Louis A. Olney, president of the association, presented his annual report and briefly reviewed the work of the year just closed.

Members of the ladies' auxiliary served an excellent dinner at 6:30 o'clock, the goodness of which was not in the least impaired by the excessive warmth of the evening. Campbell's orchestra furnished music, and there was group singing led by L. H. Carpenter and solos by Earl Leadbetter.

Mr. Olney's report showed a total membership at the present time of 2,000, a normal growth

"TIZ" FOR SORE, TIRED FEET--AH!

"Tiz" is grand for aching, swollen, tender, calloused feet or corns

Ah! what relief. No more tired feet! No more burning feet! No more swollen, aching, tender, sweaty feet. No more soreness in corns, callouses, bunions. No matter what ails your feet or what under the sun you've tried without getting relief, just use "Tiz." "Tiz" is the only remedy that draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up the feet. "Tiz" cures your foot trouble so you'll never limp or draw up your face in pain. Your shoes won't seem tight and your feet will never, never hurt or get sore and swollen. Think of it, no more foot misery, no more agony from corns, callouses or bunions. Get a 25-cent box at any drug store or department store and get instant relief. Wear smaller shoes. Just once try "Tiz." Get a whole year's foot comfort for only 25 cents. Think of it.

JOCKEY BRADY CHAMPIONS GOLDINE

This Lowell lad who for 10 years held the championship of champions of New England and whose skill and nerve as a Jockey has won him fame, says Goldine is a Great Nerve and Strength Builder, and He Knows. John Brady (Jockey Brady) of 522 Gorham street, said: "For five years I suffered from stomach trouble, my appetite was very poor and what I ate turned to gas. I didn't seem to get any strength from my food, and often had dizzy spells and was short of breath. I also had kidney trouble, had to get up eight or 10 times a night and there was a great deal of sediment. I couldn't sleep nights for I was very nervous and was troubled with restlessness and dreams. I would get up more tired in the morning than when I went to bed and was growing weaker every day. I heard of Goldine and got a bottle of No. 1. I found it a wonderful medicine to build up the strength and nerve. When I was riding as Jockey and during the years I held the championship I did not think of about 300 regular memberships during the past year and 300 additional soldiers' memberships. Mayor Thompson congratulated the association on its growth and enterprise and then presented the trophies, adding a happy phrase in almost every case.

W. H. Ball contrasted the methods of physical training of other years to those of the present day, showing the great advantages of the modern system. He contrasted the life of our ancestors, in the open and with plenty of hard work, to that of the present day city man's routine, close, confining, nerve-racking, and with the physical activities of everyday life being gradually reduced.

He pointed to the army figures on mental deficiency as an argument for the "Y" and declared that physical perfection was just as necessary in peace as in war. He mentioned the health giving, life-lengthening rewards of physical exercise, the training in right roads, of the boys and young men.

The last speaker, J. M. Clinton, spoke entirely of the work of the Y.M.C.A. in foreign countries, before and during the war. He took up the activities of the association in the Philippines and warmly praised his advance along physical lines. A million boys were brought in touch with the "Y" in India, he said, and Indian boys comprised the rank and file of Gen. Allenby's armies in Palestine.

CEMETERY BOARD HOLDS MEETING

The cemetery held its regular monthly meeting yesterday afternoon and discussed a number of complaints regarding alleged lack of care of lots in the Pawtucketville and School street cemeteries and the upshot of the meeting was a vote instructing the superintendent to write to those who had made complaints and assure them of better care in the future.

It was also voted to award a contract for the building of a wide piazza at one end of the office building in the Edison cemetery to serve as a shelter, to James Whittier, the lowest bidder. Mr. Whittier's price was $792.

The commission will hold a special meeting June 10 at 4 p. m., relative to the acquiring of additional land for the Edison cemetery.

NOTICE RELATIVE TO INCOME AND EXCESS PROFITS TAX RETURNS

Every partnership having done business during the year 1918 must file an Income Tax return before June 15. This return must be filed regardless of the amount of profit earned by a partnership. Quigley, representing the office of the collector of internal revenue, will be here until June 14th for the purpose of assisting persons to prepare these returns. Corporation returns must be filed by June 15th and assistance will be given in the preparation of these returns also.

SCHOOL COMMISSION

John A. Stevens Elected to High School Commission To Succeed Mr. Safford

John A. Stevens, a well known local engineer, was elected a member of the new high school commission to succeed Arthur T. Safford, resigned, at a joint meeting of the city council and school committee in the alderman-chamber at city hall yesterday afternoon. Mr. Stevens received nine out of 10 possible votes, William L. Crowley of the school committee voting for Samuel Scott.

The meeting was called at 1:10 with all members of both bodies present. Mayor Thompson, announced the purpose of the meeting—to elect a successor to Mr. Safford, whose letter of resignation he read.

Richard Brabrook Walsh, chairman of the school committee, moved that Mayor Thompson be chosen chairman of the joint session, and it was so voted. Commissioner Marchand moved that City Clerk Flynn be clerk of the joint session and this, also, was voted.

On motion of Commissioner Morse the joint body proceeded to the election of Mr. Safford's successor. Only one vote was taken, Mr. Stevens as heretofore stated, receiving nine of the ten votes.

Mr. Stevens Accepts

John A. Stevens today sent the following communication to City Clerk Stephen Flynn in acceptance of his election as a member of the new high school commission which took place yesterday:

June 4, 1919.
Dear Sir: I accept the nomination as a member of the high school building commission of the city of Lowell as a patriotic duty and assure you that I will do my level best to give the people of Lowell what they desire in the way of a modern high school and will endeavor to pursue this work to the end of the chapter.
Assuring you of my hearty co-operation, I am, sir,
Yours very truly,
JOHN A. STEVENS.

Relieves Deafness, Stops Head Noises

Nine out of ten cases of Deafness and Head Noises are caused by catarrhal mucus (matter) in the Eustachian Tube, which connects the nose and the ears. Leonard Ear Oil removes the mucus, opens up the tube and the other air passages of the head, and the result is instant relief from Deafness and relief from Head Noises. It is not put in the ears, but is "Rubbed in Back of Ears" and inserted in the nostrils, and common Sense Directions for Care of Hearing," which accompany each bottle, tell you exactly how to take care of your own case. Do not be misled by substituting or imitations. The only genuine "EAR OIL" is A. O. Leonard Ear Oil. It is the original and has been on the market since 1907, and every year it has relieved hundreds of people of their Ear Troubles. No matter how long you have been deaf, nor how deaf you are or what caused your deafness, or how many times you have already tried which have failed to relieve you, Leonard Ear Oil has relieved many such cases as your own. Why not you?

D. L. PAGE BUYS THE WAVERLY HOTEL

Dudley L. Page has made arrangements whereby he will purchase the Waverly hotel property in Market street, now owned by the Southwick heirs. A retainer to bind the transfer already has been paid and the final papers will be passed in a week or two. In talking of the sale this morning Mr. Page said that he had no immediate plans whatsoever for the new

Asked as to whether or not he anticipated such a move, he said he did not have the slightest idea. He holds a lease on the present building in Merrimack square which has about eight more years to run.

Mr. Page said this morning that he had anticipated a trip to Alaska about the middle of this month, but at the present time did not know whether or not his plans would carry through. He has an interest in a gold mine in that country, along with several Boston men, and as the mine has not produced anything for the past several years, several of the stockholders had planned an investigation trip. "There is a creek there which has several miles of gold in it," said Mr. Page, "but it lies under 120 feet of sand as far as I can find out." Mr. Page took a trip to British Columbia about 10 years ago and has always wanted to travel again through the northwest.

POLLARD SILK SALE IN FULL SWING

Today is the second day of the A. C. Pollard silk sale and the first day that the company has started to fill mail orders. Now as always, possession of a silk dress is a thing the majority of women desire and once attained, have a great pride in.

The magnitude of the Pollard silk sale and the tremendous bargains offered—there is good ground for using the word bargains inasmuch as the store is selling a double width silk of best grade of workmanship and design at $1.25 a yard—can be gained from the fact that the Pollard store has for years been signed up with most of the silk mills all through New England and the east, to the end that all silk remnants automatically and without financial concern on the part of the silk manufacturer, reach the Pollard store as fast as they accumulate. It is thus through this means that Lowell women and women living in the vicinity of Lowell, have access to these remarkable values.

A piece of silk, whether enough is bought for a dress, a blouse or a small remnant to trim a suit or line a coat or a cape, is always a delight. It is a thing of remarkable utility too, for a silk garment, under certain conditions, can be worn in good taste at any season of the year and certainly no time more appropriate than the summer weather into which Lowell seems to be now plunged.

The stock placed on sale today and to be on sale until the entire 15,000 yards of goods are disposed of, includes remnants of printed foulards, Samara taffetas and willow crepes. There are also plenty of plain black silks on sale and even silk costing as high as from $2.50 to $4 per yard has been carefully matched into suitable lengths for dresses, waists, skirts and linings.

John Randolph once described Delaware as "a state having four counties at low tide and three at high tide."

Value and Variety Under the Oval Label

WHEREVER you see the Armour Oval Label in familiar blue and yellow, remember that it is the symbol of a quality food supply that will not fail. It is Armour's guarantee to you of foods of highest excellence at a fair price. It takes the guess-work out of buying.

Armour's Oval Label Foods are "grouped" for convenience. These groups simplify the housewife's buying. No matter what her requirements are—Cooking Fats, Prepared Meats, Meat Alternatives, Spreads, Salads or Dairy products—the Oval Label guides her to best values. She selects from the dozen or more Armour groups with the definite assurance that she is buying top-quality at the most reasonable price.

Have An Armour Shelf in Your Home

Look for the Armour Oval Sign on a food merchant's store front. It identifies him as one who trades in standardized products for the greater protection and satisfaction of his customers. Patronize dealers who show the Oval Label. Ask your neighborhood dealer to get these goods for you.

Giant Imperator in Collision

NEW YORK, June 4.—The former German liner Imperator, which sailed from this port yesterday for Brest, collided about 300 miles northeast of Sandy Hook last night, with the steamship Agwidale, from Rotterdam for New York. A wireless message from the Agwidale stated that she was proceeding for this port under her own power, but requested a convoy. A later wireless message stated that the Imperator was undamaged and that the damage to the Agwidale was slight. Fog was responsible for the collision.

Wilson Receives NC Commanders

PARIS, June 4.—President Wilson today received Lieut. Commander A. C. Read, commander of the NC-4; Commander John H. Towers, who was in charge of the flight of the three seaplanes which attempted to fly from America to Europe, and Lieut. Commander P. N. L. Bollinger, commander of the NC-1. He congratulated them and expressed pride in the work they accomplished during the flight.

Hungarian Reds Defeat Rumanians

COPENHAGEN, Tuesday, June 3.—Hungarian soviet troops defeated the Rumanians north of Theiss river, on Sunday, and severed communications between the Rumanian and Czech fronts, according to a Budapest despatch received here. It is said the Hungarians are advancing along the entire line against the retiring Czechs.

Police Court News

ter. This met up with one of the patrolmen who had heard Paul's story, and was promptly escorted to the station where he was booked on charges of drunkenness and larceny.

According to defendant's story, it's more or less simple when you know how. He dropped into Mr. Brunnell's drug store yesterday morning and asked young Brunnell if he would give him a ten spot for some small bills. He had to send the ten away to somebody, he explained, and of course would rather forward it "solid" than to send a bunch of small bills and change.

So he got the ten, which he placed in an envelope and sealed. Then he dug down into his jeans in search of the wherewithal for the exchange. Much to his surprise he found that he had only $9 in small currency. That was too bad. Oh, well, he'd give back the envelope with the young man's ten spot and go home and get another dollar.

He gave young Brunnell back the envelope but not the one with the ten. It contained a sheet of blank paper. As soon as the young man made the discovery he reported it to a passing policeman with the result that Cecil soon found himself giving an account to Deputy Downey at the station. His still had the envelope, had not yet spent the ten spot, and this was returned to the young man who was called over by the police official.

Cecil was short on alibis when Judge Fisher allowed him to close his case. "I was doing, Your Honor," explained Cecil.

The court was of the opinion that Cecil was very much aware of what he was doing, and after finding him guilty continued the case until tomorrow for sentence. In the meantime it is understood that several other victims of Cecil's bunco game will be upon to add their version to his activities to this morning's story.

Boston Man Fined

George Bassett, of Boston, drove his driver through the streets of Lowell the other day without a license. George affirmed to Traffic Officer Sheridan at Merrimack square that he didn't need any license. "I have the registration card of the Boston firm who own the car, and for whom I am working," said George. "That's plenty license enough."

"Yes, and furthermore," added

George, "I want you to understand that I have driven this boat for nearly 100,000 miles, and no police officer has ever questioned my right to operate this car under the firm's registration."

"Well, I'm no authority on the rules and regulations of Massachusetts, but I can't see things your way," commented Officer Sheridan. "Well, let the judge decide who is right, and between you and me I think you've got the wrong idea entirely."

In police court this morning George appeared on a charge of operating an automobile without a license, and also with a violation of the city ordinance, for George had also left his car standing on Central street for a much longer time than is permissible.

Judge Fisher opined that Officer Sheridan was right, and after finding Bassett guilty on both complaints ordered a fine of $10 on the charge of operating without a license. The other case was placed on file.

Other Offenders

A free-or-all night on the North common early last evening, in which one of the quartet engaged emerged with a badly damaged head, resulted in the appearance of four men this morning before the court. Three of them, George Dalenas, Stephano Stephanopoulos and Mike Raymond were charged with disturbing the peace, and the fourth member of the party was arraigned on an assault and battery charge. All four cases were continued until June 7. The men were brought in by Patrolmen P. and J. Noonan, and although they made some objections to accompanying the officers, neatly came along in good order.

THE ROGERS HALL SCHOOL GRADUATION

One of the most enjoyable incidents of the commencement exercises at Rogers Hall school yesterday was the awarding of scholastic and other prizes to members of the graduating class by Miss Olive Parson, principal. The Underhill honors, given for good work, good scholarship and special excellence in academic work were won as follows:

First, Miss Anne Robertson of Paducah, Ky.; second, for excellence in college preparatory work, Miss Margaret W. Hussey of Lowell; third, for high scholarship, good influence and initiative, Miss Ruth W. Shafer of Kingston, N. Y. Miss Shafer also won the award as the girl who has done most to promote good government and loyalty to ideals. The athletic prize was won by Miss Helen Lambden of New Rochelle, N. Y., and the award for the best work in connection with the publication of the school paper, "Splinters," was given to Miss Isabel Carpenter of Fall River.

The class of 21 graduates came from widely separated states, as far south as Florida and as far west as Colorado. The list follows:

Edith Elizabeth Akeroyd, Newton.
Dorothy Emma Beeler, Denver, Col.
Cordelia Allison Durkee, Jacksonville, Fla.
Martha Streiff Howell, Newark, N. J.

Theo Elizabeth McElwain, Altoona, Penn.
Ruth Whitney Shafer, Kingston, N. Y.

Vandals in Cemetery

son and daughter and left behind a trail of blood giving evidence that the person who did the damage was seriously injured.

The monument in question is generally conceded by the cemetery authorities to be the most stately and beautiful in the cemetery and one of the most beautiful in the entire city. It aspires to a height of some 30 feet and its base is nine or ten feet square. From a solid base it mounts in a column several feet, which is surmounted by a cupola enclosing a statue of the Blessed Virgin. The cupola is surrounded by four ornate pinnacles rising like miniature spires to several feet in height. It was on this part of the monument that the damage was done. One of the corner pinnacles was detached from its base and broken. The cost of replacing it is estimated at between $200 and $250.

Dennis J. Meagher, superintendent of the cemetery, first discovered the damage early Sunday morning when he was making his rounds. The grave is located in that part of the cemetery directly opposite Lundberg street and is no more than 20 yards from Gorman street. The monument towers above those surrounding it and is easily conspicuous to passersby. Mr. Meagher found the broken spire lying on the grave lot about a foot and a half from one of the base corners. Just beyond on the curbing surrounding the lot were several blood stains. The base of the monument itself was nicked in several places where the falling pinnacle had struck it.

Mr. Meagher immediately notified Mr. Murphy of what had happened. Yesterday Mr. Murphy in company with Monsignor William O'Brien, P.R., pastor of St. Patrick's church, visited the grave and it was then decided to put the matter into the hands of the police.

Supt. Meagher's theory of what happened is that some of the young men or boys who have been paying nightly visits to the cemetery attempted to climb to the top of the monument. This is borne out by footprints on the rear of the structure. On reaching the cupola the climber evidently grabbed one of the pinnacles for support, thinking that it would bear his weight. This it failed to do and both the pinnacle and climber fell to the ground. The pinnacle struck the base of the monument and was diverted to the ground, a short distance away, while the person falling struck either his head or face on the curbing surrounding the grave. He evidently lay there unconscious for some time as there are several stains resulting from streams of blood running down the curbing.

Supt. Meagher stated today that the only way to prevent the recurrence of such an unfortunate happening would be to have police protection in the cemetery. Recently, he said, it has been impossible to keep mischief-makers out of the cemetery owing to the fact that the gates have to be left open in the evening on account of city employees constructing a sewer in Court street in the rear of the burying ground. The rules of the cemetery provide that the gates shall be closed at 5 p. m. and nobody allowed to enter after that time. This rule has had to be broken to allow city wagons to get in and out of the grounds, and the boys of the vicinity have taken advantage of it.

He says that he has been on guard every night for the past week or so with the exception of Saturday and has been kept busy chasing young men from the grounds. During the day there is no disturbance as there is always somebody around. There has been no damage to monuments previously but the flowers left on some of the graves have been taken away. He feels that the police department is not paying sufficient attention to the cemetery and that an officer should be detailed for the present, at any rate, to police it at night.

Up to this noon the police department had made no arrests in the case. It is understood that a general dragnet for those who have been visiting the cemetery on unlawful purposes has been set out.

The monument was erected in 1833, a year after the death of Mr. Murphy's wife, Alice E. Murphy. Thus it has been in place for 81 years without being damaged until Saturday evening's unfortunate occurrence. Its cost is estimated at between $15,000 and $20,000 and is a most artistic piece of work. Besides Mr. Murphy's wife, his son, Daniel J. Murphy, Jr., and his daughter, Esther Murphy, are also buried in the same lot.
